The committee also agreed on the membership of four technical subcommittees to supervise Continental co-operation, Britain and France will be represented on all subgroups.

Halt Search For Victims

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., July 14 (CP)—Dripping from weekend thunderstorms today continued the search in the smouldering ruins of the C. Richardson & Company coal shed, burned out in a $1,500,000 fire last Friday.

War Veteran Tenants Ask Discipline in Camp

Appointment of a supervisor to conduct the affairs of the former Macaulay Point army camp, now occupied by civilians, was urged last night at a meeting of war veteran tenants who expressed dissatisfaction with conditions in the converted camp.

Mr. Veterans urged A. Palmer, executive-secretary of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, to draft a list of rules and regulations for the camp, that would give the supervisor power to control what veterans termed "revelyism" on the part of some tenants. The supervisor should also tend fires in the camp and keep the grounds tidy.

Mr. Palmer maintained that appointment of a supervisor would not solve the problem, but that veterans would have to form a camp committee of their own to effort to get all tenants to work together.

The veterans suggested placing rowdy tenants in one hut. He said all that would do would be to create a sore discipline, "something like the army if need be."

Mr. Palmer said some tenants held to be undesirable would have to be moved out and that can only be done after accommodation for them. He said the appointment of a supervisor, and the Rehabilitation Council taking over the handling of coal, another step requested by the veterans, would necessitate increased freedges from the camp.

Tenants urged that recreation facilities for children be established. Mr. Palmer promised this matter would be taken care of and a Recreation Army officer at this meeting promised his support.

Blimp Crashes Crew Rescued

EUREKA, Calif., July 14 (CP)—A small navy blimp, presumably from Moffett Field, crashed into the sea about five miles from Eureka at 3:30 p.m. today. The navy said all men aboard were rescued unharmed. A coast guard plane followed the drifting craft away.

The navy said it did not know immediately how the accident occurred. Initial nine or 11, but it said that all men known to have been aboard were rescued by a coast guard boat and were removed to Eureka. They were not injured.

The blimp, after being in the water for some time, lifted again and disappeared in a fog, heading for the coastal mountains.

The crash occurred off Cape Mendocino, in Southern Humboldt County, roughly 210 airline miles north of San Francisco.

Those aboard the craft were on a rubber life raft when picked up by the coast guard boat.

In the photo, workmen are shown spraying a field with a solution, and in the picture at right, the converted jeep, with the newly-installed tank at the rear, and the automatic spray pipes, is shown in operation.

Blaze Cuts Fire Block

Sweeps Towards Alaska Village

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, July 14 (CP)—Weary, fighters, the fire-fighters who created today toward the imperilled Eskimo village of Teyal, pursued by a raging Kenai Peninsula forest fire which leaped a 400-foot protective fire block Sunday and swept within six miles of the tiny Cook Inlet community.

Army engineers from Fort Richardson and Alaska Road Commission crews worked feverishly to bulldoze a new scorched earth fire break between village outskirts. A backfire is planned if winds are favorable.

The spreading flames, impelled by new fury by heavy east winds, also were moving slowly toward the settlement of Kasilof, about 30 miles to the south, devouring more timber, rich timber stands and wildlife.

The town of Kasilof, itself, is not believed in any immediate danger, since it is surrounded by swamps and cleared land.

Out of control for more than a month, the fire was fanned into a holocaust last week and now is advancing on a 70-mile front.

R. R. Robinson, chief of the Alaska Fire Control Service, said it has ravaged more than 300,000 acres of prime spruce forests. Army fire camp shive 400 fires on the perimeter, with smoke towering to 15,000 feet.

City Is Shaken By Earthquake

BOGOTA, Colombo, July 14 (CP)—The Government announced today that Pasto, a city of 30,000 in Southern Colombia near the Ecuador frontier, had been shaken by a series of severe earth tremors and that there had been some casualties.

The Government immediately ordered supplies and medical assistance dispatched to Pasto by plane.

There was some speculation that the tremors might have been caused by an eruption of Galeras volcano, on whose city slopes the city lies.

OTTAWA, July 14 (CP)—Labor and Government members joined in the Commons to consider a suggestion by Harry Jackman (P.C. Toronto Rosedale) that the maximum annuity under the Federal Annuities Act be increased from $1,200 to $2,000

Must Protect 'Stake' In Europe--Marshall

SALT LAKE CITY, July 14 (CP)—Stata Secretary Marshall said tonight that the United States must protect its "incalculable stake" in Europe by enlarging economic aid to her that continents turn away from democracy.

Marshall, addressing the annual state dinner of the United States government conference here, said this country now stands at a "turning point" in its relations with the rest of the world.

Calling on the governors for their support of the economic rehabilitation plan he has proposed for Europe, the Cabinet member did not mention Russia by name in his prepared address.

Marshall spoke while Western European countries were conferring in Paris on the best way of getting Europe on its feet and ready for United States aid.

Marshall said that either the United States must "finish the task" of helping European countries get on their feet again or "reconcile" itself to a drift in Governments among those countries away from principles consistent with democracy.

He said the rehabilitation program is expected to be projected late this year for Congressional consideration in January would be fully consistent with our own national interests and yet equally considerate of the intolerable state which this country has in the preservation of European civilization."

The Secretary said many confended that previous efforts to aid European countries were "piecemeal and certainly not fully effective."

Marshall made no specific proposals for Germany, a point on which Moscow has been acrtily critical. The Soviets have charged that any effort to include the Ruhr in what they have called a "Western bloc" economic unit would involve a violation of the Potsdam agreement.

Storm Causes Little Damage

A brief thunderstorm—the first of the Summer—swept over Victoria last night, but although street lights flickered, the B.C. Electric Railway Co. substation reported no damage had been caused.

Residents of the city and the surrounding municipalities said they had received no accounts of damage from Vancouver. The Canadian Press reported that a violent electrical storm had struck Vancouver and the Lower Mainland disrupting telephone, telegraph and radio reception. Several Vancouver radio stations were temporarily off the air when lightning struck power lines and a large section of downtown Vancouver was plunged into darkness for more than 15 minutes.

B.C. Electric Railway officials on the Mainland reported lightning had struck several of their trolley formers, causing lights throughout the city to black out briefly.

The storm came as a surprise to weather bureau officials. One meteorologist said: "We didn't expect it to move this way at all."

The storm has had constant disturbances and has been accompanied by four brisk gusts of wind.

Greek Guerrillas Clash With Government Units Claim Situation Serious

Action Takes Place in Northwestern Greece Second Invasion From Albania in Two Days

ATHENS, July 15 (Tuesday) (AP)—Greek Government forces and strong guerrilla units, described by the Government as the second invasion force from Albania in two days, clashed late last night at Kalpaki in northwestern Greece, it was announced officially today.

Napoleon Zervas, minister of public order, telephoned a report of the beginning of the battle to Premier Demetrios Maximos and advised him that Government reinforcements were necessary, the official announcement said.

No details of the battle were reported.

The Governor-General of Northern Greece meanwhile announced from Salonika that the town of Kastoria had been attacked by "bandits" who penetrated and set six houses on fire before they were driven out. He said also there had been two other minor attacks on communities in the same area.

The report of the battle at Kalpaki was preceded by a Government announcement Monday night that a new invasion of Greece took place this morning." A cabinet minister said the invasion was by a force of 2,000 men advancing on the city of Ioannina 25 miles from the Albanian border.

Earlier the Government said Greek troops, reinforced by airborne artillery, had repulsed a 1,000-man guerrilla force from the gates of besieged Konitsa, 35 miles north of Ioannina and only six miles from the frontier in that sector. This announcement said the attackers had been driven back to the border.

The new force apparently is independent of the guerrilla band which the Government said invaded Greece from Albania yesterday and five days ago.

There was some indication that the new unit was composed of Communists, Moslems living along the Greek-Albanian border who previously had reported ready to attack Greece from Albania.

The announcement of the "new" invasion was made after an emergency meeting of Premier Demetrios Maximos and heads of his three defense ministries—war, air and navy.

The "point of invasion" was not disclosed.

Existence of an "international brigade" was discounted as a "rumor," but the announcement said there are foreign elements among the invaders."

Army Rules Jewish Area

Military Search For Missing Men

JERUSALEM, July 14 (AP)—Britain imposed military rule tonight on the Nalanya area in an effort to find ten army sergeants kidnaped by Irgun Zvai Leumi, underground army of Jewish fighters.

The "point of invasion" was not disclosed.

Existence of an "international brigade" was discounted as a "rumor," but the announcement said there are foreign elements among the invaders."

Approximately 3,000 British troops put a ring of arms around an area in Nalanya in which the sergeants are the coastal plain in an attempt to find the sergeants, kidnaped from in front of a cafe in the diamond centre town of Nalanya early Saturday.

The communique establishing military rule cited five additional interdictions of terrorism in the Nalanya area and added that "it has now been decided that the area shall be a controlled area. This has been done to facilitate a thorough searching of the area to prevent further activities of this nature within it."

A house-to-house curfew was imposed for "the first hours" of the night-time hours and all recreational, banking and telephone services are denied the population.

Shipments of food were banned except by the army. Earlier extra British troops had been taken into Nalanya, which also is a sea resort town.

See Shakeup In Britain

LONDON, July 14 (AP) — British politicians talked today of a possible shakeup in Prime Minister Attlee's labor cabinet, and speculated that a coalition Government or a new general election might be in the offing.

U.K. Timber Contracts Extend Well Into 1948

British Columbia lumber exporters have firm commitments with the United Kingdom which extend well into 1948, Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney said here yesterday, discussing reports from London that the British Government has shortages in Great Britain might force withdrawal from the British Columbia market in favor of other countries not on dollar standard.

Mr. Kenney declared that the lumber controller recently had negotiated contracts totalling approximately 900,000,000 feet for delivery over a period of 18 months. These contracts cover 304,000 standards of softwood and 46,000 standards of hardwood. (A standard contains 2,000 feet).

Reports to the minister indicated that there is no diminishation in the United Kingdom with the exception of shipments from this province in favor of overseas is a question of dollars.

British misinformed from the Colonial timber market would be in a position to this province, which produces 45 per cent of the manufactured lumber of the Dominion, the minister said.

At present the industry is operating on quotas allowing 45 per cent to the United Kingdom, 40 per cent for domestic use, and 15 per cent for the open market.

"Any dropping off in exports to Great Britain could probably be absorbed by the domestic market, but that would mean a temporary setback until the saturation point was reached," Mr. Kenney pointed out.

Envoy Asks U.N. Hasten Its Decision

Requests Action On Balkan Probe

LAKE SUCCESS, July 14 (AP)—Vassili Dendramis, Greek ambassador to the United States, requested today that the United Nations Security Council "do everything possible to hasten action" on recommendations of its Balkans Investigation Commission in view of "drastically more serious" conditions on the Greek-Albanian border.

In an urgent letter to the president of the Security Council, Dendramis said his Government had instructed him to report that strong and well-armed hostile forces invaded Greek territory from Albania yesterday morning, July 13, and besieged the town of Konitsa.

Furthermore, he wrote, "it is known that to the northwest of Konitsa, in the vicinity of the border on Albanian soil, supplies and medical services are concentrated for still an additional force including units of an international brigade of irregulars and Communists."

(A dispatch from Athens today quoted an official announcement of the Greek Government as saying participation of an international brigade in the Konitsa fighting was only "rumor".)

The Balkan commission's report to the Council termed Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria responsible for giving support to their unlawful government Greek guerrillas and urged the Greek Government to apply to a lesser degree of fomenting internal strife

Soviet Proposal to Ban Atomic Weapon Delayed

LAKE SUCCESS, July 14 (AP)—The United Nations Atomic Energy Commission today postponed a vote on Russia's proposal for destruction of all atomic weapons after hearing Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko loudly unsuccessfully for a vote on the proposal before voting on the bombs and even agreed to a two-week recess for study of time.

However, other delegates insisted that any such formal resolutions should provide that the weapons not be dismantled only when a standard been reached when atomic controls and the necessary machinery was considered effective.

Delegates also stuck to the original American plan which provided that atomic bombs would be destroyed only after controls were operating. Russia always has insisted that there first should be a separate treaty outlawing and destroying bombs.

The committee will meet again Thursday and Gromyko said at that time he again would insist that the delegates go on record formally.

Earlier the commission's politics committee considered an informal paper on the function of an international agency in relation to local ion and ntrol zone

Buy in Dollars Britain's Plan

LONDON, July 14 — Britain tomorrow will start to pay for all the goods she orders from overseas in her currency and not in dollars—a move which financial experts predict will increase the strain on the country's rapidly dwindling supply of borrowed United States dollars.

The United States insisted upon the "free convertibility" of sterling arising from current transactions as part of the 1945 $3,750,000,000 loan agreement. The U.S. Treasury insisted on the clause to insure that countries which sent goods to Britain would not be compelled to spend their sterling payments in the so-called area.

High financial sources acknowledged today that if Britain's foreign exchange situation is eased by implementation of the Marshall Plan, the importing of sterling commodity might have to be controlled in due course as one of several emergency measures.

U.S. Tax Bill Passes Senate

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The United States Senate passed the $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill today, sending it to the White House where a veritable veto awaits it.

The vote was 60 to 33, two short of the two-thirds margin the supporters of the cut would have to roll up in order to make the bill law over President Truman's objections.

Royal Raven Slain in London Tower Tradition Revives Age-Old Tales

LONDON, July 14 (Reuters)—Minister in the Tower of London, which superstition holds as a threat to the destiny of Britain—has revealed today.

A week ago, "MacDonald," one of the Royal ravens which have strutted traditionally for centuries in the quadrangles of the tower, was found by the raven master with his head lopped off.

since has kept a night-and-day vigil around the raven's cage.

Tradition has it that on the day that the last of the King's ravens is missing from the tower the war of London's mediaeval fortress will crumble, and Britain and her Dominions will cease to exist.

The victim of the most recent of a long series of executions in the infamous tower was buried with military honors for the raven he slew to the King. The murderer, however, is still at large.

The tower has been a favorite location for murder, suicide and mysterious disappearances. Its dark history stretches back 1,000 years. Traditionally, there should always be four birds, but a fifth and sometimes a sixth have been kept in "reserve."

The birds are believed originally to have flown in from the Essex marshes whenever there was an execution. They are said to have hovered over Anne Boleyn, one of Henry VIII's ill-fated wives, when she was beheaded.

Their span of life is about 80 years, though there is a record of one bird dying at 68.

Surrendered U-Boat at Halifax Awaits Sinking

THE U-190, one of two German submarines which surrendered to Canadian warships on this side of the Atlantic after V-E Day, will soon be put to sea for the last time Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence, has announced she will be destroyed in an anti-submarine exercise later this year. A section of the U-boat is seen in the above picture. On board are Lieut Rodney J. Johnston, of Toronto (left), present commanding officer of U-190, and Lieut J K Power R C N, of Montreal. Among ships that fell victim to this submarine during the war was the Canadian minesweeper H M C S Esquimalt, sunk off the entrance to Halifax Harbor on April 16, 1945

Ships and Aircraft May Take Part In Destruction of Former Raider

The former German submarine U-190 which torpedoed and sank H M C S Esquimalt April 16, 1945, in the eastern approaches to Halifax harbor will be destroyed by the R C N. by means of explosives, it has been disclosed by the Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence

Naval authorities have indicated that this will probably take place in the early Fall, and that it is possible that both surface craft and aircraft will play a part in sending the one-time sea raider to the bottom in a realistic anti-submarine exercise.

The U-190 was commissioned in the German Navy on September 29 1942, and is not of a recent type, and possesses no equipment of interest or value to the R C N. She made six patrols during the war, two of which were in the Atlantic on operations concentrated in the Halifax and Newfoundland areas

Her surrender signal was received May 11, 1945, at Cape Race, Newfoundland She was some distance out to sea for she had started back to Kiel, her German base, after 120 days on patrol.

The frigate H M C S Victoriaville and a corvette, H M C S. Thorlock were despatched to take over the surrendered submarine and its crew. They came upon her in the early evening of May 12 and after a formal surrender at sea on board the Victoriaville a course was set for Bay Bulls, Newfoundland

Lt. J K Power, R C N, of Montreal, and Lt. C. A Stirling, R C N (R) of Moncton, N B, who are at present serving with the navy in Halifax, well remember the surrender of U-190, for they were serving on the Victoriaville at the time

Lt. Stirling is serving for the Summer months in Halifax, as are numerous other ex-naval personnel from across Canada, with the R C N. (R)

Lt. Power, who remained aboard the Victoriaville to look after prisoners of war, vividly recalls the formal surrender of the German captain to Lt.-Commander Leslie H. Hickey, Dartmouth, N S., the commanding officer of H M C S Victoriaville at that time

At Bay Bulls, the submarine was turned over to an R N.-R C N. crew which later brought it to Halifax in the early part of July, 1945. The German crew went to a prisoner-of-war camp.

At Halifax Lt. J Rodney Johnston, R C N (R), of Toronto, took over the command of the submarine late in 1945. He is still in charge of the ship.

Look to China In Ship Death

MONTREAL, July 14 (CP)—Quebec Provincial Police looked tonight to the Shanghai waterfront to provide some clue in the death of the long-fingered, well-manicured stowaway whose decomposed body was found on the Canadian freighter, Maria G, as she sailed Middle-Eastern waters for home

Investigation so far pointed to the stowaway perhaps being C. H Heilmeier, believed to have been the co-owner of the Yankee Cafe in Shanghai a German who once lived in Munich.

Whoever he was, the stowaway died a slow, tortured death in the utility locker of the cargo vessel, operated by the Atlantic Shipping Company, of Montreal She arrived here Saturday

Capt. Arthur Hawkins, of the Maria G said the man could either have starved to death or suffocated at some time prior to finding of the body April 25 last

Urges U.S. Not to "Abandon" Soviet-Dominated Countries

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the 1948 United States Republican Presidential nomination, pleaded tonight that the United States should not "abandon" the eight Soviet-dominated European countries which refused to attend the Marshall Plan Conference in Paris livery over a national radio network, Stassen predicted there will be "a continuing major competition and clash of economic systems and of ideologies between Russia and the United States" He continued:

"The hope of mankind is that a decision can be reached on a basis . . of ideas and not through a resort to force"

Stassen said that the eight small states—Finland, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Yugoslavia, Romania, Hungard, Bulgaria and Albania—"no not want to turn away from us," and did so only because "in their posi-

Terming the refusal of Russia and her satellites to join the Paris parley a development of "major and grave postwar significance" Stassen said:

"I do not believe there will be a major change in Russian policy for the better until members of the all-powerful Politburo, including Generalissimo Stalin, become convinced of two things.

"1. That notwithstanding the strains of war and postwar conditions, our economic system can continue to function with high production and high standards of living and without a major economic crash and devastating depression.

"2 That the Communist Party cannot successfully infiltrate and dominate or sabotage this country or any other one of the major powers of the world."

As a move to that direction, Stassen urged that the United States "proceed promptly with an intelligent, co-ordinated program to clear up Communist infiltration in the United States."

C.B.C. Bill Gets Third Reading

OTTAWA, July 14 (CP)—A Progressive Conservative move to kill a bill to give the C.B.C. the full amount of the $2.50 fee collected from individual radio owners was defeated on a vocal vote in the Commons tonight and the legislation, target for heated debate, was given final reading

The debate on the principle of the measure came to an end with speeches by Revenue Minister McCann, minister through whom the corporation reports to Parliament, and John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader

Dr McCann re-enunciated the Government's backing of the C.B.C as Canada's dominant force in radio

Mr. Bracken termed the granting of the full $2.50—it now has to pay costs of collecting it—a "hidden subsidy" and said it violated the principle that the C.B.C should carry its own weight.

Charges by E. D. Fulton (P.C., Kamloops) that "political considerations" were involved in C.B.C policy were heard earlier. The move to kill the bill developed with T. L. Church (Toronto-Broadview) at the morning sitting and when it was placed before the House was defeated with only an expression of "ayes" and "nays"

Dr. McCann said an "unscrupulous" program had been unleashed by private interests in an attempt to usurp powers held by the C.B.C

The Government believed in a nationally owned and operated radio for all Canada. It should be responsible to Parliament.

He also took exception to statements made by Norman Jaques (S.C., Wetaskiwin) inferring that some C.B.C. commentators were communistically inclined and objected to "slurs" on C.B.C. employees who were unable to reply

Reserve Officers Aid in Training

Reserve force army officers are to be detailed on a voluntary basis to help officers of the active force in the training of Canada's thousands of cadets an Army Headquarters release said yesterday

Tours of duty will not exceed the 30 days' training plus ten days in camp authorized by the Minister of National Defence

Employment of reserve officers, it was reported, was expected to ease shortages of competent training personnel to five army commands across the country.

...Oddities...

AUGUSTA, Me., July 14 (AP)—John Hunt, State specialist studying damage by seals to Maine's fishing industry, was sleeping nightly in his truck by the seashore, but he had to go inland.

"They have a great habit of crawling out on the rocks at night to sleep—and snore, too," he said.

"I just couldn't take it"

LONDON, July 14 (CP)—When [illegible] assizes referred to a man in the dock as an "incorrigible liar," Dr. S. T. Hayward, mental specialist, replied:

"I do not use that language. I say he suffers from a disordered imagination and a phantasy life."

The judge: "I still think 'liar' is better English."

GLENS FALLS, N.Y., July 14 (AP)—Sign of the times (on a Glens Falls barber shop door):

"Closed on account at improved financial condition—may open next week."

TOKIO, July 14 (AP)—A cupful of pumpkin seeds or a few pounds of grass will get you into Ueno zoo free

The zoo, finding Government rations and allied leftovers insufficient to satisfy the animals, instituted this barter system today. Otherwise, it costs an adult four cents and a child two cents for admission.

Y.M.C.A. City Vacation Club Attracts 60 Boys Daily

—Colonist Photos

MORE and more Victoria parents are taking advantage of the Y.M.C.A. City Vacation Club which offers supervised recreation for their boys. More than 60 youngsters daily attend the club, which offers instruction in swimming, educational tours of industries, hikes, parties, movies and games. Pictured above are some of the boys awaiting swimming instruction from Perry Riddle, left background, and Jim McKellar, right, in the "Y" pool. Mr. Riddle and Mr. McKellar work under Keith Darbyson, director of the club. In the lower photo, Mr. Riddle is seen giving instruction in lanyard making to a group of boys at Gorge Park. They hiked to the park, had lunch and played games there yesterday afternoon.

Guided Tours of Victoria Industries Among Many Activities in Program

A "happy and healthful holiday" is what the Y.M.C.A. offers Greater Victoria boys between the ages of 10 and 16 in its newly-formed city vacation club.

Open to boys only, the club is attended daily by more than 60 children, who are given guidance by qualified Y.M.C.A. leaders. It constitutes the Summer session of the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Department.

Keith Darbyson, well qualified in a multiplicity of Y.M.C.A. courses, is director of the club, and is assisted by two well-known Victoria "Y" members, Percy Riddle and Jim McKellar. All have had extensive training in working with youngsters, thus assuring parents that the children will be well supervised during their club activities.

Games, swimming, movies, parties, hikes, softball and beach parties are but a few of the activities in which the boys can participate. The club closes July 26, giving way to the "Y" Glinz Lake Camp, which starts August 4.

Educational tours of industries are a feature of the program. Various industries throughout the district are visited by the boys who are taken on conducted tours by company officials. Chartered buses are used to transport the club to and from these educational trips.

Meetings are held every day, rain or shine, and the only equipment a boy need take is running shoes and lunch.

One of the most important classes is the "Learn to Swim Class," and those in charge give excellent instruction in swimming.

Castle Contest At Beach Today

A sand-castle-building contest for children will be held at Oak Bay Beach this morning under the auspices of the Oak Bay playground committee, it was announced yesterday. Judges will be Mrs. Walter Walker and Dr. Henrietta Anderson. Prizes will be awarded by Mrs. W. E. Cockell, supervisor.

Wednesday, at 2 p.m., older children from Windsor and Willows Parks will meet at the end of the Oak Bay car line for a hike along the shore under the direction of George A. Hardy, of the Provincial Museum. Children are asked to bring containers to collect marine specimens.

A combined fancy dress and talent parade will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Willows Beach Park, and at Windsor Park at the same time on Friday there will be a decorated vehicle and talent parade. Prizes will be awarded for best performances in these events.

To Be Sentenced On Two Charges

Pleading guilty to two charges of possessing stolen property, Clarence Arthur Billett was remanded until today for sentence when he appeared in city police court yesterday. He was charged with being in possession of a box of tools, reported stolen from Gordon Head Military Camp in 1945, and being in possession of a pistol, the property of the New Westminster Armoury.

Last week Billett was sentenced to six months in jail for theft of a camera and was given a concurrent sentence of one month for possession of an unregistered pistol.

INSTRUMENTS ISSUED

Thousands of reconditioned musical instruments, many of which were used overseas during the war, are now being issued to units of the Reserve Army force, it was reported in Ottawa yesterday.

Recently bands were authorised for a total of 317 reserve units.

City Police Court

Pleading guilty to a charge of dangerous driving on Gorge Road Saturday night, James Smith was fined $35 and had his licence suspended for three months in city police court yesterday.

Constable Ray Maitland said a car driven by the accused had struck a car driven by Joseph R. Cresby, 2942 Tillicum Road, and then had run into a stone wall west of Manchester Street.

Chicago is the world's greatest railroad centre.

Training Camp Ends Today For 300 Boys

The first of three two-week air cadet camps being held at the R.C.A.F. station, Patricia Bay, will end today with a drill parade and sports program.

R.C.A.F. officials said yesterday the drill parade would commence at 10 a.m. and the sports events would get under way at 2 p.m. About 300 air cadets from cities and communities all over British Columbia and Alberta are attending the first camp.

The second camp will open Thursday, when a similar number of cadets are expected from the two provinces. While at the R.C.A.F. station, the "flyers of the future" learn fundamentals of flying, navigation and other functions of the air force.

Squadron Leader C. N. McVeigh, R.C.A.F., is in charge of the cadet camps' program. He is assisted by a large number of cadet officers and R.C.A.F. personnel.

MAY USE ARMOURIES

Cadet units of Canada's three armed services have been granted free use of armouries and drill halls for their training, so long as it does not interfere with the training of the reserve force, it was announced in Ottawa yesterday.

In all cases, a unit's application for the use of a drill hall will have to receive the approval of the officer commanding the command concerned.

REPORTS ON INQUIRIES

Following inquiries, Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart reported that the deaths of R. L. Montgomery, about 60, who collapsed in a car outside Foster's Garage at Pandora and Quadra Street July 8, and of Ruth K. Olsen, about 45, found dead in her room in a downtown hotel Friday, were both from natural causes.

Letters on Many Odd Topics Reach Chamber of Commerce

A letter requesting the name and address of "some [illegible] Victoria was among the day's mail received yesterday at the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

"It is hard to get the tickets here in the United States," writes the Portland ticket seeker, "and sometimes a shark will sell us some and never turn them in. We lose the money and the chance to win."

"This is just one of hundreds of inquiries we receive every week," commented Capt. Norman Foster, assistant secretary of the chamber.

Among other communications received yesterday were those asking for names of dealers here selling English geared bicycles, and colored photographs of the Legislative Buildings and the Inner Harbor. Another from Bath, England, wanted to know about Canadian politics. "Is there a likelihood of another party getting into power at the next election?" the writer asks, after wondering if any large industries here are operated by state authorities.

A query from a seed company in Elma, Wash., asks for the names of newspapers circulated in the Queen Charlotte Islands. The firm wishes to place an advertisement calling for spruce cone pickers, and notes: "A person can make very good wages picking these cones."

Other letters are from business firms throughout North America and foreign countries, seeking persons or firms here willing to act as salesmen or agents for their particular line of goods.

Halifax By-Election

By returning a Liberal to the House of Commons in yesterday's by-election, Haligonians have given a measure of encouragement to an administration which has not done conspicuously well at recent public tests, and one which no doubt will be grateful for even this small favor. Party standing in the House remains unchanged; Mr. John Dickey, the successful Liberal candidate, taking the seat vacated by his law partner the late Mr. W. C. Macdonald, who was Liberal member for the riding at the time of his death.

Although the seat has been in the Liberal column since 1935, the Mackenzie King regime vested it with new importance in the test. Nine Cabinet ministers joined the appeals on the hustings, in a three-way contest with Progressive Conservatives and the C.C.F. The campaign revolved around national and local issues, with some bitterness in its closing stages as party chieftains swung into action on the rostrums.

Contesting a traditionally Liberal seat, the Progressive Conservative candidate, Mr. A. A. McDonald trailed in the balloting. Mr. H. L. MacIntosh, the C.C.F. candidate, was in second place. Some eighty thousand voters were eligible to cast their ballots in the test in rural and city sections of the riding. The election of the Liberal nominee was conceded in a Canadian Press dispatch after the first 100 polls had been returned.

Liberal supporters of the Government may make much of the Halifax by-election. It could easily be too much. By-elections have seldom influenced a general election in this country, no matter how one-sided they were. In this instance, the return of a Liberal for a Liberal in a riding that has not changed its colors in twelve years means little enough either way. The salient point is that the standing in Parliament is unaffected, and Mr. King's slender majority there is secure for the closing moments of the current session.

The Tourist Hiatus

It is an ironical fact in the year when leading transportation companies brought about a decided improvement in car and passenger ferry transit to Vancouver Island that some of our roads should not be in shape to take advantage of the greatly increased volume of tourist business offering. We have discussed the cause for that. The News-Herald, Vancouver, commenting editorially on the virtual severance of highway communication on parts of Vancouver Island says, in part:

"This is a serious matter for a large part of Vancouver Island which depends on tourist trade. It is serious, too, to the extent that it cuts down the flow of United States motor tourists at a time when the Canadian Government is bidding for every American dollar in order to hold our foreign exchange position.

"Responsibility for the condition of the highways, of course, rests with the Provincial Government. We have been boasting that this Government at Victoria has been doing a good job generally. Unfortunately for its good record so far, now it is revealed as having failed in the matter of roads in a part of the province which in the past has accounted for a large part of British Columbia's income from motor tourists.

"The shipping companies did their part to develop and handle the motor tourist traffic this year. The Puget Sound Navigation Company at a cost of $2,250,000, built and put into operation the fastest and one of the largest motor car ferries in the world in order to link Vancouver Island with the Pacific Coast Highway from California. The Canadian Pacific stretched its resources to provide for five round trips a day between Nanaimo and Vancouver, to loop the traffic through this city and the Lower Mainland. The Government highway people, however, have let everybody down, with the result that much of the expected traffic is being diverted from B.C."

Henry G. Dalby

A well-known Victoria businessman for more than half a century, Mr. Henry G. Dalby passed at his Douglas Street home last week, aged 73 years. Before the turn of the century Mr. Dalby established himself in business here, was for a long and active career identified with real estate and insurance matters. He had an unique knowledge of the city, and followed its growth and development through five decades with keen personal knowledge of real estate and property values.

Mr. Dalby's father, the late William Dalby, was mayor of Victoria at a very early period; and Henry G. Dalby retained his interest in civic affairs and with all that had to do with the progress of the community. He was interested in sports, and an ardent supporter of local playing fields. The sincere condolences of the community will be extended to those who are bereaved.

Housing Failure

It is rather late in the day for the Minister of Reconstruction to be saying the Dominion Government has no responsibility for civilian housing. His disclaimer might have had more validity had his department stayed out of the field altogether, instead of bedeviling the construction industry by countless restrictions. As the situation exists, however, the facts are otherwise. Postwar reconstruction involves the housing of the people of this nation, and it is a major problem that will require urgent attention so long as the present scarcity of homes exist.

No one believes the Dominion Government to be the agency upon which will lie full responsibility for putting roofs over the heads of all the population, but much of the present sad state of affairs can be traced to governmental makeshifts and lack of a comprehensive plan of action. A government which controls rentals and issues priorities and building regulations of one kind or another is in the housing business whether desirous or not, and it is mere evasion to imply otherwise. Veterans are rightfully accorded first place in departmental consideration, but the obligation cannot stop there. Until the acute shortage of homes is ended the national government must be vitally interested.

Mr. Howe's statement before the House of Commons is in reality an admission that his department has failed to touch even the fringe of the problem. It should also help to make clear that the sooner the curbs are removed from private enterprise the sooner something worthwhile may be accomplished about housing. In spite of periodic statements of progress being made, the truth is that home building plans have bogged down. Several factors enter into the cause, but important among them is governmental weakness and inaction. It would be better that the state should free the construction industry from undue interference and let it go ahead on its own initiative. This would be the best way to set a real building program in motion.

Tax Simplification

It will be some time before the general public has an opportunity of noting in detail the extent of the simplification promised by the Minister of Finance in the matter of the Federal income tax. A bill said to incorporate sweeping changes in the present tortuous procedures has been introduced for preliminary study by members, although it will not be dealt with until the next session of Parliament. Any new measure that will bring simplicity to the Act and cut away the accumulated verbiage will be welcomed.

It is reported that the number of "ministerial discretions" in the existing tax law would be reduced to two, neither of them affecting the actual tax payable. That seems almost too good to be true. The terms of the bill will therefore be awaited with interest. Too much was left to ministerial discretion. Under the proposed bill the advisory appeal board created by last year's legislation will be unnecessary. That will be no great loss, since by retaining ministerial right to have the last word on tax appeals the taxpayer was still at the mercy of the author of the original assessment.

The public will not be disposed to count income tax chickens until they are hatched, having by long experience been taught to be wary of announced changes until they have a chance to scrutinize them. This matter of appeals is one that will undergo particular reservation until then, in view of the disregard paid to a Commons-Senate committee recommendation last year that the taxing body should not also sit in judgment on complaints against it. The new bill is also reported to have reduced the number of parts from 18 to eight. That should mean something in the way of clarity, for which a long suffering public would offer thanks.

Seen in Passing

Creative imaginations have been free to starve in every age. They have starved and survived; starved and done well on it, starved and at times produced works which the world has treasured for succeeding centuries. Yet it is short-sightedness on the part of the world to leave unrecognized those free minds to whom has been given something apart in human values, a creative intellect.

Youth and Age

There's not a joy the world can give like that it takes away
When the glow of early thought declines in feeling's dull decay.
'Tis not on youth's smooth cheek the blush alone which fades so fast,
But the tender bloom of heart is gone, ere youth itself be past.

Then the mortal coldness of the soul like death itself comes down,
It cannot feel for others' woes, it dare not dream its own;
That heavy chill has frozen o'er the fountain of our tears,
And though the eye may sparkle still, 'tis where the ice appears.

Though wit may flash from fluent lips, and mirth distract the breast,
Through midnight hours that yield no more their former hope of rest;
'Tis but as ivy-leaves around the ruin'd turret wreathe,
All green and wildly fresh without, but worn and grey beneath . . .

Canadian Ports

Frank M. Kelley

Last month while the Canadian Parliament was busy with many problems of importance to the country, Transport Minister Chevrier tabled the annual report of the National Harbor Board, which administers a number of Canada's greatest seaports.

According to the report, the aggregate volume of waterborne cargo inward and outward for 1946 [illegible] compared with 30,062,000 tons for the previous year. Decrease in tonnage was naturally responsible for a considerable drop in revenue.

Much of this could no doubt be satisfactorily explained through changing world conditions and logical readjustments occasioned through transition from wartime expediences to peacetime routines. The decreases need not necessarily be taken as indicating a quick return to prewar volume, a condition which would be unthinkable and not at all in keeping with the sacrifices made to maintain the trade and prestige of the country.

Quite possibly revenues of the National Harbors Board of Canada may face further decreases until such time as there is a readjustment of dollar credits internationally and a return to the more or less sane rivalry which featured intercountry trading less than a decade since. The old world has a habit of adjusting itself equitably as time passes and the present unsatisfactory state of affairs should mean nothing more than a transitory phase.

BETTER DAYS AHEAD

Just the same it is no time to sit back and make no effort to bring about better conditions. It should prove good business if this country finds ways and means of maintaining its machinery of progress in a healthy condition, ready for the day when trade will begin to flow in normal fashion again. So believing, all Canadians should endorse any effort made by their representatives in Parliament aiming at the establishment of mediums which will serve the country's future to the best advantage.

About the same time as Transport Minister Chevrier's report for 1946 became available to the House, Reconstruction Minister Howe plans for the establishment for a three-man Maritime Commission "that would," in the Minister's own words, "assist and encourage Canada's shipping and shipbuilding industry to maintain themselves in a healthy and efficient state."

Minister's Howe's Bill provides for the setting up of a commission which would serve in an advisory and operative capacity under the Minister of Transport. In the course of his remarks, the introducer of the bill stressed the importance of such a commission, stating "whether we like it or not we are in the merchant shipping business in a big way."

Mr. Howe further stated that the reorganization of Canada's peacetime shipping administration machinery was now important from both economic and strategic angles. He predicted Canada would become the third maritime country of the world.

Members of the House generally agreed with Reconstruction Minister Howe. Howard Green (P.C., Vancouver South) said his party had consistently urged the Government to undertake the building of a merchant marine, while T. J. Church (P.C., Toronto) held Canada was a "nautical nation," and yet had never given her shipbuilding industry the recognition it needed and was entitled to.

In the meantime, certain interests in some of the country's principal seaports administered by the National Harbors Board are apparently not happy over the ways things are going. Halifax has been agitating for a return to the commission form of harbor administration; but with the announcement that an announcement that an amount in excess of three millions of dollars will be spent on the harbor there the chief maritime port on the Atlantic coast of Canada may still be satisfied with "remote control," the principal reason, so Haligonians stated, for wanting a change.

SEEKS LOCAL CONTROL

Vancouver, also, has its agitation for some form of local control. Maybe Canada's great Pacific port might have done better under a commission or local authority. That must be left to conjecture. One thing is certain, the Port of Vancouver has grown prodigiously since it became a National Harbors Board responsibility. Maybe, too, the Port Manager had something to do with that, for the right man must necessarily be a great factor, no matter how far away the control really is. We would say Vancouver and the Harbors Board have been very fortunate in their representative—Ken Burns.

In the meantime with all the stirring in and about Canada's ports and the fact that Parliament has granted incorporation for the setting up of a Port Alberni Harbor Commission, we would again respectfully call the attention of the powers-that-be to what shipmasters and shipping men using the Port of Victoria have stated time and time again in past years—it could be made a revenue producer of far greater importance than it has ever been if advantage were taken of its geographical location and its harbor and pier facilities put in shape to handle business at present lost to the country. Their recommendations are worth while, and while costing nothing could be developed advantageously and help to increase the revenue Canada derives from her seaports.

NEW YORK, July 14.—There's nothing new about seeing discs in the sky. People have been doing it for years. Descriptions of what they see may differ from season to season, and sometimes they may even see little dirigibles that aren't there, but it has been a popular pastime with earth dwellers for a long time.

The late Charles Fort, who was interested in phenomena which seemed to have no natural explanation, told about some discs in his "The Book of the Damned," first published by the Fortean Society.

"It will be amazing or negligible to read all the instances now to come of things that have been seen in the sky," Fort write. He led off with a "most extraordinary and singular phenomenon" seen in North Wales on August 26, 1894, a disc from which projected an orange-colored body that looked like "an elongated flatfish," according to the description given by an Admiral Ommanney.

In India, about 1838, someone saw a disc from which a hook-like form projected. On another occasion, time and space not specified, a disc was seen the size of the moon, but brighter. It lingered for 20 minutes.

In Poland, Ohio, during a stream of meteors in 1883, there was discerned a very brilliant hook-like form which was visible for more than an hour. A resident of Chile told of seeing, on November 5, 1885, a luminous object the size of a full moon, which stayed in the sky an hour and a half. Whether or not he saw the moon at the same time was not explained.

Sometimes, apparently, discs do not come singly. On June 3, 1896, two luminous bodies, seemingly united, were visible for five or six minutes. The location of the twins was not specified.

When a foreign body, afloat in the sky, approaches Niagara Falls it undergoes a change in form from a disc to something else, it seems. For, on November 13, 1833, someone there saw a large luminous body almost stationary for a time, shaped like a square table.

Mexico saw a gigantic trumpet on July 6, 1874. It was suspended vertically in the sky and oscillated gently. Visible for five or six minutes, it was estimated to be 425 feet long. New Zealand reported a "thing with an oval nucleus, and streamers with dark bands and lines "very suggestive of structure" on May 4, 1888.

The London Times reported that on September 26, 1870, a thing with a tail was seen crossing the moon, taking half a minute to get across.

A large body, shape not specified but colored red, was seen moving slowly for fifteen minutes in the sky near Marseilles on August 1, 1871.

The Chilean who told of seeing a disc the size of a full moon wasn't in the same league with residents of Adrianople, Turkey, who saw an object four or five times the size of the moon moving in grandeur across the sky on November 1, 1885.

Not all the objects in the sky are noiseless. On April 1, 1826, a grayish something that appeared to be about three and one-half feet long rapidly approached the earth at Saarbruck, with "a sound like thunder."

Perhaps one of the most interesting manifestations was the formation having the shape of a dirigible reported over Huntington, W. Va., on July 18, 1919, at about 11 p.m. Observed through field glasses, it gradually dimmed, disappeared, reappeared, and then faded from sight.

It was suggested that the object really was a dirigible, but if so, it was transparent, for the observer said that faint stars could be seen behind it. A professor guessed that it was a detached cloud of Aurora Borealis, and another commentator suggested that it was light from a blast furnace. "disregarding," Fort wrote, "that if there be blast furnaces in or near Huntington, their reflections would be commonplaces there."

The author's own theory is the most arresting. It is "that super-geographical routes are traversed by torpedo-shaped super constructions that have occasionally visited or that have occasionally been driven into this earth's atmosphere. From data, the acceptance is that upon entering this earth's atmosphere, these vessels have been so racked that had they not sailed away, disintegration would have occurred: that, before leaving this earth, they have, whether in attempted communication or not or in mere wantonness or not, dropped objects which did almost immediately violently disintegrate or explode.

"Upon general principles, we think that explosives have not been purposely dropped, but that parts have been racked off, and have fallen, exploding like the things called 'ball lightning,' and may have been objects of stone or metal with inscriptions upon them, for all we know at present."

Finance Minister Opens Tenders On Two Projects

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, as acting Public Works Minister, yesterday opened a total of eight tenders on two projects on Mainland highways.

Murphy Excavating Co. Ltd., at $13,604, put in the lowest bid on a contract for a culvert and fill at Beacon Gulch to replace a bridge on Marine Drive at Point Grey. Other tenderers were Budd's Cartage & Contracting Co. Ltd., $13,979; Holmes & Wilson Trucking Co. Ltd., $16,311; Martin Bros. & Campbell, Ltd., $18,098, and Thomas Kerwain Construction Co., $18,356.

Low bid for the superstructure of Stirling Bridge on the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway at Similkameen was Dominion Bridge Co., $56,162. Others were entered by Western Bridge & Steel Fabricators, Ltd., $59,997, and Hiway Construction Co., Ltd., $68,000.

Stern-Wheel Ferry Offered for Sale

Replaced recently by the new motor-driven ferry Anscomb, the Provincial Government's stern-wheel ferry Nasookin is being offered for sale by public tender.

Built in Cleveland, Ohio, and assembled at Nelson in 1913, the old stern-wheeler was operated between Nelson and Kootenay Landing originally by the Canadian Pacific Railway and later by the Provincial Government. She was taken off the Fraser's Landing-Kootenay Bay ferry run June 24 this year, when the Anscomb was put into commission.

Tenders will close with the purchasing commission here July 24.

UNDER THE COUNTER

Sir,—For the last few weeks I have been a visitor here in Victoria. As an outsider, may I add a comment on the relative amount of gum-chewing in Canada and in my own country, the United States. As a native New Yorker condemned to use the subway, I have always been under the impression that my fellow townsmen found their chief diversion in riding underground at 50 miles an hour and chewing gum with almost equal rapidity.

I had come to Victoria for a change of scene, for a touch of its Old World charm. I have found it, though I was disappointed to discover that afternoon tea is rarer than I should have supposed. I also found that one is as likely as not to have to have tea at a counter at a cafe, tea made with a tea ball. And on the underside of the counter I have repeatedly discovered there are affixed hundreds of wads of discarded gum, perhaps left there by visitors, leaving at least this their impress on the local scene. But I have seen a good many unmistakable local citizens at these cafes and chewing, too, not always least or sconés.

Obviously, West was a pretty light opener.

West led the deuce of hearts. Dummy ducked, East played the nine, and declarer won with the ace. The diamond king was cashed and declarer then led a spade, hoping that he would be able to ruff at least one spade in dummy. West hopped with the spade ten, and, reading declarer's plan, tried to squash it by leading the trump six. Dummy's seven held this trick and now declarer led the other spade, hoping that East, who had shown out of trumps, would have to win and would be unable to take out dummy's trump queen. West, however, killed this hope by overtaking East's jack of spades and playing his last trump. Now declarer could get rid of one losing card on the diamond ace, but this was not enough.

In his anxiety to ruff a spade, declarer lost sight of an alternative play. His procedure was all right up to the point at which he led the second spade. It will be recalled that dummy's seven-spot held West's second trump lead. It should have been obvious to declarer that West was determined not to allow a spade ruff, hence that some other plan would have to be employed. It would not have taken much searching to discover that the establishment of a diamond trick was the only alternative. Thus, on holding the lead in dummy with the trump seven, declarer should have cashed the ace of diamonds, discarding a spade or a club, then ruffed a diamond with a high trump. Following that, a lead to the heart queen and a ruff of another diamond would establish dummy's fifth diamond and would leave the club ace for entry. With this plan, declarer would take six hearts in his own hand, the ace and king of diamonds, the ace of clubs and a long diamond.

Simple Solution for Britain's Housing Labor Shortage

GREAT Britain has embarked on a housebuilding program which is paying handsome dividends. Here a group of building trade apprentices, aged 14 to 16, are constructing permanent homes. The apprentices receive the aid of four instructors and a single laborer. The youths, all without previous technical training, are working under an "apprentice master" plan. The project differs from ordinary trade apprenticeship in that the trainees actually work at the job instead of spending most of the time merely watching. The three youthful bricklayers, left to right, are Eddie Walpole, Leonard Earl and David Edwards.

Exchange Rate Painful To Shanghai's Visitors

SHANGHAI, July 14 (AP) — The "official rate of exchange" racket—you can dignify it with all the official cliches in book but it's still a racket—is probably more painful to American travelers in Shanghai than any other spot on the globe.

Before they let Americans off the ship at Shanghai, the customs people queue them up so they can exchange their good United States money for Chinese money—which is not so good.

Few Americans have had much experience with dual currency. So this intrigues them at first. They can buy 12,000 Chinese dollars for one American dollar. It sounds like a lot of money. But it isn't.

Next day when the American gets ashore, he finds that on the open market—that's the black market—the same United States dollar will bring 45,000 Chinese dollars. And he discovers that the price of food, drink, lodging, silks, mandarin coats and jade is fixed a lot nearer the 45,000 level than the 12,000 level.

Compared to the black market he got about 26 cents to the dollar when he traded his money at the official rate. Compared to price levels he received about 40 cents to the dollar. The Chinese Government got the rest.

American residents in China scarcely mention the official rate of exchange except to speculate as to when a new one might be set. When a new rate is set, the official and black market rates are about the same for a few days. But as China's currency continues its non-stop fall toward zero-minus, the open market rate climbs until it is three, four or five times the official rate. The Chinese Government, pretending its money is sound, clings to the official rate.

Would Purchase Atomic Parts Internationally

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., July 14 (CP) —Canada today suggested an international budget for purchase and ownership of all atomic materials the moment they leave the mines.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton read the proposal before the Atomic Energy Commission. Prepared by a sub-committee which he headed, it was supported by the United States but opposed by Australia, China and Poland.

Under the plan, mining of uranium and thorium would be done on a quota basis with small amounts being taken from countries with small deposits and large amounts from countries with large deposits.

The proposal would grant "adequate compensation to the owners of the mines."

No country or individual would be permitted to possess or dispose of atomic source material after it had been mined without the knowledge of the atomic control agency.

Poles Wage Miniature War Against Ukrainian Bandits

RZESCOW, Poland, July 15 (AP).—There's a miniature war on down here in Southeastern Poland. Three countries have joined forces to wipe out troublesome Ukrainian Nationalist bands.

South of here along the San River around the town of Sanok, and stretching close to the frontiers of both Czecho-Slovakia and Soviet Russia, Polish troops and security corps are frequently clashing with Ukrainian "bandits."

Since the Government's recent amnesty brought 55,000 members of underground anti-Government bands out of their hideouts, the Ukrainians have been the Warsaw regime's biggest internal headache.

Recently, the Government enlisted the "collaboration and liaison" of Czecho-Slovakia and Russia in liquidating the Ukrainians.

Just how many Ukrainians are fighting is difficult to even guess. The strength of their bands has run all the way from scores up to as high as 9,000.

How many Polish troops are engaged in the liquidation campaign also is not known. There are reports of as many as three divisions or more. What direct aid they get from Czech or Russian armed forces in actual operations likewise is difficult to determine, but newspapers have reported Russian troops joining Poles in fighting Ukrainian acts of sabotage.

Ukrainians long have agitated unavailingly for autonomous recognition.

The Polish Government announced that a total of 484,000—believed to be all the Ukrainians in Poland—had been repatriated into Soviet Russia.

But the Ukrainians allegedly sweep back across the frontier into Poland at night. Some come by horseback, some by motorized transport. Their armament is said to include plenty of automatic firearms, machine guns and mortars.

Newspaper reports relate how the Ukrainians, resentful over being expelled from villages long their homes, have carried on a campaign of attacking, burning and pillaging homesteads now occupied by Polish settlers. They also attack army outposts and Government institutions.

Bevin Affirms Friendship With France

PARIS, July 14 (Reuters).—Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, in a Bastille Day broadcast from Paris tonight said Britain and France were resolved that nothing should separate them. Much had divided the two countries in the past but there always had been an identity of policy aimed at resistance to tyranny and maintenance of freedom.

"Our development had been on different lines, and today those two lines, which, in spite of apparent differences, were really leading in the same direction, have now met. Our two countries have contributed much to civilization," Bevin said.

"In every task we have instinctively moulded and shaped out policies so that they would result in resistance to tyranny and enable us to reach the day when the people were free from exploitation.

"Our two policies have aimed at all times at maintaining that great freedom, to lead our own lives as we please, providing we do not interfere in the lives of our fellow men, to express ourselves freely, to settle matters by reason and not by force, and to give to our peoples security.

"To our friends in France I say: Be of good cheer, the future is with those who love and live for freedom."

France Using Nazi Prisoners As Handymen

PARIS, July 14 (CP) —Some 500,000 of Hitler's once proud "supermen" have become the handyman of France, helping to clean up the rubble of war wreckage and bolster industries where manpower is short.

[illegible] of war, but about 60,000 have accepted a French offer to become "free workers," employed under the same conditions as any foreign worker in France and at a salary equal to the French scale. French officials say they hope more will follow suit.

In many parts of France one sees strapping Germans shuffle by at the end of their day's work on farms or reconstruction jobs without a glance to right or left. French men and women ignored them or watched them impassively. In Britain they can be seen walking cockily, sometimes strolling country lanes with their arms around English girls.

"I hate to think what would happen if one of our girls went out with a German," said a resident of Marseille.

Although Frenchmen as a whole may not love the Germans the need of employing them is widely recognized, and an official said that "a large departure of these prisoners would be a disaster for French economy."

Under an agreement by which France acquired 450,000 German prisoners of war held in United States custody, those electing to remain prisoners must be repatriated at a rate of 20,000 a month. Up to 25,000 a month may volunteer to become "free workers."

Prisoners receive an allowance of ten francs a day, although their employers must pay the regular wage scale, the balance going to the French Government.

British Union Meeting Faces Thorny Problems

HASTINGS, Sussex, July 14 (Reuters) — The British Transport and General Workers' Union—largest trade union in the world—opened its biennial conference here today faced with two of Britain's thorniest industrial problems.

The 700 delegates, representing 1,300,000 workers, will try to prevent [illegible] claims by other unions, notably the National Union of Mineworkers, that what amounts to "most-favored-worker" treatment should be encouraged by the Government to win recruits for under-manned essential industries.

The Government plans to give extra rations, more unrationed food and other special advantages to miners, agriculture workers and textile operatives.

The transport men, whose union possesses funds totalling almost £5,500,000, maintain that transport men have just as arduous a job as any, and oppose privileges for special sections of workers.

Harry Edwards, chairman of the national executive of the union, told the delegates today that unofficial strikers are "heading for disaster." He called for full realization that there could be no repudiation of agreements, that the only authority entitled to call members out in dispute is the executive of the union.

One of the 33 resolutions on the heavy agenda demands a "complete change" in Britain's present foreign policy. Another "views with alarm" its "disastrous effects" and a third condemns the "pseudo-Tory foreign policy."

Foreign Secretary Bevin, at present attending the Paris Economic [illegible] tions when he addresses the conference Thursday.

Woven Striped Chambray Casual

WOVEN striped chambray is worked horizontally in the cap-sleeved top and gathered peplum of this dress, while the skirt stripes run up and down for height and slimness. It is a Varden casual, designed for the woman 5 feet 5 inches or under, and so these details are important. A kick pleat in the skirt keeps it slim, while other good details are self buttons and belt. In Summer pastels.

New Fall Clothes Make Full New Wardrobe a Necessity

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—The greatest fashion furore since the dawn of the hobble skirt is about to break over the United States and Canada. New York designers unveiled to the press today a series of new Fall silhouettes calculated to knock the family budget for a loop.

The general idea of the new Fall clothes, frankly discussed by manufacturers, is to make it necessary for every woman to toss out her current wardrobe and start again from scratch.

Department store managers and buyers seem dubious, however. No doubt they find their sleep disturbed by uneasy dreams of buyers' strikes.

Crux of the Fall fashion battle lies in hiplines and hemlines. The former bulge, the latter drop. Once again its going to be fashionable for a woman to have hips as well as a well-defined bust, just so the waistline between these two regions is as small as corseting can make it.

Some of the gasps that may be expected this Fall will be the following items:

Accentuated hiplines: These vary from frankly padded hips to those which achieve the new founded look through inner ruffles of crinoline or through skillful drapery.

Dropping hemlines: You may wear your skirts as long as you like this Fall, and be in style. Knees must be covered. Street clothes may be merely mid-calf, but dressier garments hover near the ankles. This doesn't mean just dinner dresses, but also the afternoon frocks women wear for bridge parties and such.

Full skirts: Many Fall dresses have skirts which are circular with several yards of fabric around the bottom. Practically all skirts are flared. A favorite silhouette for Fall is the flared skirt with fullness concentrated in back to give a fantail effect.

Vancouver Wedding Of Interest Here

Canadian Memorial Church, Vancouver, was the scene of a lovely candlelit wedding June 11 at 8 o'clock when Rev. Dr A. M. Sanford read the double ring marriage service for Rosena Mary Atkinson, daughter of Mr and Mrs. I. S. Swanbeck of Vancouver, and Raymond Victor, second son of Mr and Mrs. C. Andareag, 140 St. Andrews Street, Victoria. The groom is a graduate of the University of British Columbia, and Osgoode Hall Law School, Toronto.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a classic gown en train of ice blue satin and matching coronet with finger-tip veil of misty French netting. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

The three bridal attendants were dressed in pink net posed over taffeta and matching Juliet caps with shoulder-length veils. They carried shower bouquets of gardenias, pink carnations and blue sweet peas. Mrs Gerard Piola, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and Miss May Cewe was bridesmaid. Little Berniee Sullivan was her cousin's flowergirl. Mr Harry Brown acted as soloist.

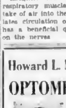

Mr. Ronald Howard was the groom's best man and the ushers were Mr. Harold Wolfe, cousin of the groom, and Mr David Swanbeck, brother of the bride.

At the reception which followed, Mr Harry Buckley proposed the toast to the bride and read the many congratulatory telegrams from Eastern Canada, the United States and England.

For the wedding trip to California, Mrs. Anderegg chose a navy blue ensemble with matching hat and red snakeskin accessories. The couple will reside in Vancouver.

Princess Thinks Foothills Range "World's Finest"

EDMONTON, July 12 (CP)—Royalty on a ranch might sound incongruous, but Princess Tania Obolensky of Russia finds her Bow River ranch, six miles southeast of Cochrane, Alta., "the finest place in the world."

"From our ranch we can catch a glimpse of the purple Rockies to the west on a clear day," she says.

Her foothills home includes six sections and is bounded on one side by the Bow River. She has lived there 16 years and is proud of her Karacula sheep, Aberdeen Angus herds of cattle and family of six dogs.

Born 15 miles from St. Petersburg (now Leningrad), the princess remembers very little of her early childhood for her family fled during the 1917 revolution. She was educated in Yugoslavia, Vienna and Rome.

She came to Alberta in 1931 and joined friends of the family, the Barons Joseph and Endre Csavossy of Hungary. She hopes her parents, Princess Elizabeth and Prince George Obolensky, now living in France and Switzerland, will share her home this Summer.

The princess is an accomplished horsewoman and has ridden from Cochrane to Wetaskiwin, a distance of 400 miles in three and one-half days.

Spending a holiday at the Coast, Princess Obelensky made her first visit to Victoria last Summer. She was the guest of Mr and Mrs. Sidney O. Warlow at the Empress Hotel during July.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THAT WORD MAUSOLEUM MORE THAN MEETS THE EYE

This word is no longer reserved for the great tomb of a ruler of important personage, but is extended more and more to family vaults which many people can afford. However, in its origin it named one of the "seven wonders of the world."

The first mausoleum was erected in Greek antiquity as a monument to Mausolus, King of Caria, by his widow, Artemisia. As a matter of fact, the tomb of Halicarnassus is said to have been begun in 353 B.C. by Mausolus himself.

The achievement of the architects Satyrus and Pythus, with decorations by the most famous sculptors of the day, the original edifice is construed by architectural students from its description by Pliny, the Roman writer, almost 500 years after it was built. It was mentioned by medieval writers as late as the twelfth century in a way implying that it still stood intact. However, by 1402, Crusaders on the site of Halicarnassus found it in ruins and used the remains in building a castle. Decorative fragments survive and are in existence today in the British Museum, in London.

Like an iceberg, a common word sometimes carries most of its weight beneath the surface.

Doreen Smith Wears White Satin Gown

Victoria West United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday evening when Rev. J. C. Jackson solemnized the marriage of Harriette Doreen, daughter of Mr and Mrs. H. P. Smith, 3054 Wascana Street, and Leonard Bath, son of Mr and Mrs. George Bath, 4001 Quadra Street. Baskets of roses, Shasta daisies, dahlias and ferns formed the floral background and prior to the ceremony Mrs. Malcolm McIntosh sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden."

The bride, given away by her father, was a pretty picture in white satin fashioned with sweetheart neckline, lily point sleeves and panel of frilled net in the front of the full skirt. A three-quarter length veil of heirloom Irish lace was caught under a coronet of orange blossoms. She wore a three-piece set of pearls and carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

There were three attendants: Miss Eva Mae Smith, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, in pink net over satin; Miss Anna Alder and Miss Lorene Michael, the bridesmaids, in turquoise taffeta with double net skirt and peach taffeta gowns respectively. All wore Juliet caps with shoulder veils and mitts to match their gowns and carried Colonial bouquets of pink carnations and stephanotis.

The best man was Mr. Tom Wilkinson, and Mr. Brian Kilpatrick and Mr Stanley Smith, brother of the bride, acted as ushers.

While the register was being signed Mrs. McIntosh sang "O Day of Golden Promise."

The reception was held at the Strathcona Hotel, where Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Bath welcomed the guests with the bridal couple. Tall silver tapers lighted the table, which was decorated with pink carnations and centred by the three-tiered cake. Dr. A. J. Saich proposed the toast.

Colwood Members Endorse Plan to Purchase Property

Unanimously Approve Directors' Move To Buy Golf Course for Country Club

Members of the Royal Colwood Golf Club last night unanimously endorsed the action of their directors in making plans to purchase the clubhouse and site from the present owners and wholeheartedly approved more far-reaching plans of transforming the club into a golf and country club, with additional facilities for other sports.

Club Director R Shaw and George Randall, who is in charge of arrangements, outlined the plans formulated by the directors to a large gathering of members and pointed out the advantages which could be gained by club ownership of clubhouse and site.

Purchase of the property was almost necessary if the members were to retain their present privileges, it was revealed.

In this regard, it is known that a Seattle syndicate has long been interested in acquiring the valuable property as an investment and that the Colwood Park Racing Association made a bid to purchase the 237-acre tract with the object of installing a racing strip on the part of the acreage not now devoted to golf.

Reported plans of the latter organization would have changed the layout of the course somewhat, with the second and part of the third fairways to be embodied into the contemplated race track.

It was also rumored that R. James Speers, head of the Prairie racing circuit, is anxious to expand to British Columbia and might have considered the site suitable for his purposes.

Members were informed that the directors, with these facts at hand, acted at once to forestall outside ownership and immediately obtained an option to purchase outstanding shares from the Dunsmuir and Sayward-Wilson interests and the Colwood Land Company, Ltd., present owners.

COURTS, SWIMMING POOL, ARCHERY RANGE PLANNED

Cost of carrying out the project would be in the neighborhood of $100,000, it was stated. It is planned to sell $150,000 worth of debentures to finance the deal. Of this $25,000 would be used for improvements and the balance not needed for the purchase would be set aside. Club members would have first opportunity to purchase the debentures.

Improvements would first be made to the course and later plans to add more facilities would be undertaken. Tennis courts, a swimming pool and an archery range were among the suggestions. Tourist accommodation and other features would also be added before the club reached its avowed goal.

Surplus acreage also came in for discussion and it was tentatively planned to make a subdivision of the 60-70 acres on the Island Highway west of the clubhouse. It was pointed out that the sale of this property would aid in financing the proposed improvements.

Following disclosure of their ambitious plans, the directors received a vote of confidence without a single dissenting vote from the members present.

Necessary legal steps will be taken immediately to carry out the plan and another general meeting will be called to ratify the final arrangements as soon as they are made.

Wilson Captures Bowling Title

W Wilson of the Canadian Pacific Club retained his Vancouver Island men's singles championship and possession of the Peace Cup in the final of the Island tourney at Victoria Lawn Bowling Club over the week-end.

The final game saw Wilson and A Findlay of the Victoria West Club tied, 11-11, but Wilson scored four straight points to take the championship, after measurements had to be taken on the last end, so narrow was the decision.

Semi-finals saw Wilson defeat W Cross of Burnside, 15-6, and Findlay eliminate H Jackson, 17-8.

Consolation doubles were won by Dougan and Cottrol, with Kenwood and Shearing finishing second.

Bailey Captures Todd Medallion With Run of 85

Knocking off 85 straight clay pigeons, Ted Bailey captured the Ernie D Todd gold medallion for the longest run on the trap ranges during Sunday's Victoria Gun Club bi-monthly shoot at the Albert Head grounds. Bailey had previously won the Dr. A. D. Bechtel Trophy for the longest run scored on the skeet ranges.

Bailey dropped ten straight birds in one 25-shot competition and continued through the next three frames without a miss to register his sensational run of 85.

Henry Pottinger, former holder of the Todd medallion, and Dr Bechtel, won legs on The Daily Colonist Trapshooting Trophy and the C.I.L. Skeet Shield, respectively with scores of 25 straight kills.

Winner of the miss-and-out event was Clarke Atchison, while Jack Roach and Pottinger finished on top in the backer-upper.

City Junior Golf Captured by Dods

Shooting a 155 over 36 holes, Gordon Dods won the Maurice Carmichael Cup, emblematic of the city junior golf championship at Colwood on Sunday.

After scoring an 80 in the morning round the Uplands junior got hot on the afternoon round to post a 75, to lead the field by five strokes. D Fanthorpe, Gorge Vale, who led after the first 18, shot an 81 in the afternoon to take second place with total of 160.

Third was Laurie Kerr of Colwood who shot rounds of 82 and 84 for a total of 166.

Minor Baseball

Tillicums and Eagles won games in the midget section of the Victoria Minor Baseball Association last night, the former defeating Henderson Brothers, 8-1, and the latter winning from Cameron's Wood and Coal, 7-3.

Norm Forbes set Hendersons down with a two-hitter. McConechy hit a home run in the seventh with one on for winners. Phil Redford pitched Eagles to their win.

Cricket Tomorrow

Wednesday cricket will be resumed tomorrow with Royal Canadian Navy playing host to Jimmy Oakman's eleven at H M C S Naden at 2 p.m.

The Sailors will be opposed by a squad selected from teams in the Victoria and District Cricket Association and skippered by the veteran Oakman.

William Marr Dies

TORONTO, July 14 (CP)—Former vice-president of the Ontario Amateur Athletic Association, William David Marr, 57, died today at his home following a long illness.

A former flyweight boxing champion of Canada, he served in executive capacities with many athletic bodies, including the Canadian Wheelman's Association and the Ontario Speed Skating Association.

Navy	7	22	.250

Mac MacIntosh's Navy baseballers robbed Canadian Legion of a tie for first place with Eagles in the senior amateur league when they nosed out the veterans, 3-2, in a crowd appealing fixture at Athletic Park last night. MacIntosh now has visions of his team overtaking the third-place Pitzer and Nex.

Little Jeff Worrell not only pitched his team to victory over the high-flying Legionnaires but scored the winning run in the seventh after doubling and rounding the third sack on Langlois' single. His double was the only extra-base hit of the game.

Navy scored one run off veteran Lloyd Cann in the first inning when Langlois, first man up, was hit by a pitched ball, went to third on Kubicek's single and came home on a fielder's choice. Tudor and Wood opened the Navy fourth with singles and then executed a double steal for Navy's second run.

Both Cann and Worrell were frugal in allowing men to get on base with the latter giving up the only free pass—an intentional walk to Jake Walker after the latter, in continuing his top hitting pace, had driven in both Legion runs in the sixth. Cann allowed nine hits and Worrell one less. The former struck out seven batters and the latter three.

Some smart fielding featured the game with no less than six double plays being pulled off, three by each team.

On Sunday Legion moved to within a half-game of the Eagles by trouncing Pitzer and Nex, 15-8. The Legionnaires lashed out 15 hits off the combined offerings of MacArthur, who went out in the fourth, and McLellan. Four of the hits were triples by Ross, Downs, Walker and winning pitcher Frank Scroggs.

EAGLES TO WORK OUT

Cincy Hurler Handcuffs Dodgers With Lone Hit

By The Canadian Press

Brooklyn Dodgers, out to simultaneously increase their seven-game winning streak and their lead at the top of the National League, couldn't do either last night as a 22-year-old righthander — Everett (Bud) Lively, of Cincinnati—held the Brooks to a single hit and sent them down to a 2-1 defeat.

Lively turned back the first five Brooklyn batters before he walked Pee Wee Reese to the second. Johnny Jorgensen followed with a double—the only Dodger hit—scoring Reese. After that the youngster didn't allow a man to reach first.

His victim was Ralph Branca, who, like his team, was working on a personal seven-game victory string. He was batted out in the fifth when the Reds opened up a 2-1 lead.

In other games in the National, Chicago Cubs broke a nine-game losing streak by defeating Boston Braves, 5-3, the hard-hitting New York Giants downed Pittsburgh, 5-1, and Tommy Hughes and the Philadelphia Phillies halted George Munger's string of consecutive victories at seven in defeating St. Louis Cardinals, 6-2.

In the American League, only two games were played. At Cleveland, a home run by Bobby Doerr in the ninth inning gave Boston Red Sox a 1-0 victory over the Indians as Dave (Boo) Ferriss shaded Don Black in a torrid pitching duel.

Black, who pitched a no-hitter his last time out, allowed only seven hits, five of them in the first three innings, but made the mistake of giving Doerr a good one on a 3-2 pitch.

At St. Louis, the last-place Browns shelled three pitchers for 20 hits—half of them good for extra bases—for a 16-3 triumph over Washington Senators. Only 478 fans were on hand to see the Brownies' best offensive of the season.

Vets Defeat Esquimalt To Win Fifth Straight

HOW THEY STAND

Breaking a 4-all tie with a four-run outburst in the seventh inning, Army, Navy and Air Force Vets knocked over the loop-leading Esquimalt Meat Market nine, 8-4, in a hard-fought senior "A" men's softball fixture at Central Park last night.

The triumph extended the Vets streak to five while Esquimalt's loss was their fourth in five games. Vets are now tied with Brentwood Aces for second place.

Vets spree in the seventh saw Martin, who again was the winning pitcher, and Grunder get on through errors. Palmer and Okell followed with singles, scoring two runs and Travis and Hudito came through with well-placed bunts to score the other two markers.

Vets took a 2-0 lead in the first inning but Jim Lackie's boys tied it up in the second and went ahead 4-2, in the sixth only to see winners deadlock the score in their half of the inning and set the stage for their big seventh inning.

Both Martin and Ralph Bonner, who pitched for Esquimalt, gave up seven hits, but errors and walks at crucial moments gave Vets the win.

The game was featured by some sparkling catches, one of which was made by Chick Newman, meat-dealers' first baseman, who speared a hard-hit line drive. Okell played smartly at third for Vets and hit three for four.

Lloyd Jones, Vets' manager, announces that his team will engage in a double-header with the Indian Island team from Port Townsend, Wash., at 2:30 and 8 p.m. on Saturday at Central Park.

In the first game of the play-off for first place in the junior girls' league, Hot Shots defeated Goblins, 16-9, and will meet Sidney on Friday with the winner gaining the bye in the play-offs.

His first pitching defeat of the season was administered to Dodo McKay of the top-rung B C Forest Products senior "B" team by Youbou Wolves in the first game of an exhibition double bill at Central Park on Sunday.

Hank Bennett Retains Net Crown; East-West Test Matches Open Today

By VALERIE SCOTT

Saturday afternoon saw the 1947 city tennis champions decided as Henry Bennett proved his supremacy in Island tennis by winning the men's singles title for the third successive time. He also was a victor in the men's doubles final for the third time, partnering Commodore J. C. I. Edwards this year.

Maureen Bell joined him as a double title-holder when she beat first-seeded Margery Unsworth to win the women's singles and joined her to capture the doubles title.

The finalists as a whole did not retain the standard of play they showed earlier in the week. In every match the winners were guilty of many errors before finally coming through.

After Bennett had won the 20-game first set from Carl Brand the match was virtually over. Brand continued to fight well but Bennett gained confidence and became more accurate to win the next two sets with the loss of only seven games.

Miss Bell outhit Miss Unsworth, and had everything her own way after she won the first set in a 12-game struggle.

Results follow.

Men's Singles — Henry Bennett beat Carl Brand 11-9, 6-4, 6-3.

Women's Singles—Maureen Bell beat Margery Unsworth 7-5, 6-2.

Men's Doubles—H Bennett and Commodore J. C. I. Edwards beat A C. Brand and E McCallum 6-8, 6-2, 9-11, 6-1.

Women's Doubles—Maureen Bell and Margery Unsworth beat Peggy Jackson and Beryl Keyes 6-4, 6-3.

Mixed Doubles—E. McCallum and Mrs P Birley beat Commodore and Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards 6-8, 6-2, 7-5.

EAST-WEST MATCHES GET UNDER WAY TODAY

The first annual East-West series will begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. A handsome trophy has been put up by the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association.

The performance of all players will be studied in these matches and in the Canadian championships to be held in Vancouver next week, after which the country's Davis Cup team will be chosen.

Both teams have been practising arduously on grass courts for the important series which will continue tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

The Eastern team will not have everything its own way. It is perhaps a little better balanced, but the fight between the first and second strings on each side should be close. The deciding factor may very well be experience the Eastern team has gained in last year's Davis Cup matches and in the United States championships.

The line up of both teams is as follows:

Western team—No 1, Walt Stohlberg; No. 2, Jim Skelton; No. 3, Arthur Jeffery; No. 4, Don Hodges.

Eastern team—No 1, Henri Rochon; No. 2, Don McDiarmid; No. 3, Brendan Macken; No. 4, Jim Macken.

Matches scheduled for the week are as follows:

TUESDAY

McDiarmid vs Hodges
Rochon vs Jeffery
B Macken vs Stohlberg
J Macken vs Skelton

British Olympic Team Will Not Get Extra Food Ration

LONDON, July 14 (AP) — Sports-minded Britons met with rebuff today in their efforts to drive a wedge into the strict food rationing system for the benefit of their own and foreign athletes coming here for the 1948 Olympic Games.

John Strachey, Minister of Food, parried questions in the House of Commons — and conceded not one inch.

Asked if foreign competitors would be allowed to bring foodstuffs or if all entries would be limited to British rations, Strachey replied:

"All travelers entering this country are allowed to bring with them 25 pounds of food of which not more than five pounds could be of any one kind."

That rule is already in the books and so was Strachey's reply to the next question—would British athletes be given extra food to meet the advantage given foreigners in importing 25 pounds?

"Our own athletes could go as often as they wished to a restaurant," said Strachey.

A medical voice, that of Dr Navil Leyton, joined the food debate in a letter in the current edition of the British Medical Journal. In a letter to the editor, Dr Leyton said the way to Olympic victories was through the stomachs of British athletes.

Despite any technical skill, he stated, British athletes won't stand a chance unless they get food in addition to the present ration.

Victoria Athletics, who moved into contention for the W.I.L. lead with a recent winning surge, dropped eight games off the pace at Bremerton last night as the league-leading Bluejackets handed them their third straight setback, 8-3, in what had started to be a crucial series.

On Sunday the Tars took advantage of great pitching by Bill Ahearn and Joe Sullivan to score identical 3-1 triumphs. The two clubs complete the Bremerton end of the nine-game series tonight and then come to Victoria for five games, starting tomorrow and winding up with a double bill on Saturday.

Bob Jensen, who marked up three Victoria victories in a week after rejoining the team, failed to get a man out last night and was tagged for his first loss.

A base on balls and four singles counted three Bremerton runs before Bill Rose, who was unable to finish the first inning in one game on Sunday, came in to smother the uprising. Rose gave up five hits and three more runs in his stint.

Jim Lowman was the successful moundsman for the Tars, racking up his 11th win. He gave up a single run in the first while singles by Vic Mastro and Jack Harshman, Babe Jensen's double and an infield out scored the final Victoria runs.

Charlie Bushong, Bill Barisoff and Eddie Murphy each picked up a pair of singles for the winners. Leo Righetti was the only Victorian to garner more than one hit, picking up two singles in three trips.

Sudden downpours of rain halted the game in the first, fourth and seventh innings.

In the only other W.I.L. game played last night, Vancouver Capilanos staved off a desperate ninth-inning Tacoma rally to edge the Tigers 4-3.

Dick Mitchell tossed a four-hitter at the Tars in the first Sunday fixture but Ahearn only gave up one—a double to Harshman—and the young Victoria righthander took a tough setback. Three unearned runs off Rose in the first inning proved to be the margin of victory in the nightcap. Bill Woop relieved in the first inning and hurled scoreless ball the rest of the way but it was too late as Sullivan muffled the A's attack effectively.

In other Sabbath games, Spokane trimmed Wenatchee twice, 18-8 and 8-0, Salem edged Yakima in both games, 1-0 and 8-5, and Vancouver dropped two heartbreakers to Tacoma 5-4 and 8-6.

Zale, Graziano Meet Tomorrow

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—Struggling into the subway after Tony Zale knocked out Rocky Graziano last Fall a veteran boxing writer remarked. "It doesn't matter if I don't get a seat, I've been standing for six rounds, anyway."

It was that kind of a fight—a thriller to be remembered for years—with two deadly punchers hammering away at each other, Zale going down, battered and apparently helpless and struggling to his feet again. You were just admiring his futile gameness when Tony suddenly sank his right into Rocky's body and it was Graziano sitting helplessly on the canvas while he was counted out. . . . It wasn't any wonder that the supposedly calm occupants of the press rows stood and screamed along with the cash customers.

It doesn't seem possible that they'll repeat this blood-and-thunder brawl in Chicago Wednesday. Somebody must be wiser or more cautious as a result. . . . But if they should, you'll hate to miss it.

No Contenders Listed For Joe Louis' Title

WASHINGTON, July 14 (CP)—After all these years, the National Boxing Association still hasn't found anyone who should fight Joe Louis.

The association's quarterly ratings were announced yesterday and as usual, there is a vacuum in the Louis heavyweight crown.

Only one other champion, welterweight Ray Robinson, enjoys such a shortage of first rate competitors.

President Abe J. Greene noted in an accompanying statement that the day of double world champions —one for New York State, one for the N.B.A.—is about over, temporarily at least.

For when Ike Williams, the N.B.A. lightweight champion, meets Bob Montgomery, New York's ex-bantamweight, in Philadelphia this month, all dual claims will have been eliminated.

The ratings:

Heavyweight — Champion, Joe Louis; logical contenders, none; outstanding boxers, Joe Walcott, Joe Baksi, Elmer Ray, Tami Mauriello.

Light heavyweight — Champion, Gus Lesnevich; logical contenders, Billy Fox, Archie Moore, Tommy Varusa.

Middleweight — Champion, Tony Zale; logical contenders, Jake Lamotta, Marcel Cerdan, Rocky Graziano; outstanding boxers, George Abrams, Steve Belloise, Chuck Hunter, Charlie Burley.

Welterweight — Champion, Ray Robinson; logical contender, none; outstanding boxers, Tommy Bell, Tony Janiro, Tony Pellone, Charles Fusari.

Lightweight—Champion, Ike Williams; logical contender, Bob Montgomery; outstanding boxers, Enrique Bolanda, Gene Burton, Larry Claborn, Vic Parisi, Johnny Bratton.

Featherweight — Champion, Willie Pep; logical contenders, Miguel Acevedo, Carlos Chaves, Charles Riley; outstanding boxers, Phil Terranova, Jay'e Loulis, Al Phillips, Cliff Anderson, Joe Sandy Saddler.

Bantamweight—Champion, Manuel Ortiz; logical contender, Harold Dade; outstanding boxers, Kid Kong Young, Peter Kane Castillo, Theo Medina.

Flyweight — Champion, Jackie Paterson; logical contenders, Dado Marino, Rinty Monaghan; outstanding boxers, Emile Pladziemo, Joe Curran, Mickey Hill, Dickie O'Sullivan.

TOAST and TEA
BY J.V. McAREE

"Men were sensible to the charm and beauty and usefulness of evening 10,000 years ago," wrote George Moore in Aveu, "and then thousands of years' hence they will be moved in the same way." He proceeds to quote a passage from Pierre Loti which he considers beautiful: "But evening comes, evening with its magic, and we reflexively submit ourselves to its charm once more. About our brave little encampment, about the rough horizon where all danger seems at present asleep, the twilight sky kindles an incomparable rose border. Strange flesh green, and then rising by degrees to the zenith, it softens and quenches. It is the indecisive and lovely hour when, amid languishes which are neither day nor night, our odorous fires begin to burn clearly, sending up their white smoke to the first stars; our camels relieved of their burdens and their high saddles, sweep by the thin brushes browsing on perfumed branches like great, fantastic sheep of slow, inoffensive demeanor. It is the hour when our Bedouins sit in a circle and tell stories and sing; the hour of rest and the hour of dream, the delicious hour of no mede life

Hunters Agree On Duck Limit

MONTREAL, July 13 (CP)—Representatives of sportsmen of Quebec Province meeting in Montreal, have unanimously agreed to accept a short duck hunting season—45 days—and a reduced daily bag of eight birds as against 15 if the Dominion Government and fish and game officers of the province decide such reductions are necessary to save wild ducks from threatened disaster.

The meeting was under the chairmanship of Vernon Johnson, Montreal sportsman, and followed a recent report from Ottawa that the duck population was moving toward extinction if some steps were not taken to conserve the birds.

FORD'S A STANDOUT in the Low-Price field!

Smart new trim lines accent the ground-hugging design of Ford's all-steel "Lifeguard" body.

with the Lively V-8 engine!

Fewer revolutions per wheel-turn . . . the car hustles while the engine loafs!

with "King-Size" brakes!

Self-centering, too, for smoother operation, less lining wear.

with Solid comfort!

Rest-ride springs cushion you all the way. Stabilized chassis keeps you straight and level.

Ford's sprightly colours go on over the rust-proofed Lifeguard body. Then they're baked on—and that's why your Ford V-8 will keep its showroom complexion. Ask your dealer about deliveries.

CHICAGO, July 14 (CP)—Deferred corn and oats futures were strong today with September and December corn contracts reaching new seasonal highs, but wheat was weak and around 3 cents a bushel lower most of the session. Hedging sales against the new crop, and an increase in country offerings influenced wheat prices. About 300,000 bushels of wheat were reported booked to arrive.

Little Stories for Bedtime

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

A FIGHT FOR A HOME

Though fighting usually is wrong,
Sometimes it may be right.
When people try to steal from you
By all means bravely fight.

That is what Skimmer the Swallow were doing this bright, beautiful morning in the Old Orchard while all their neighbors looked on and encouraged them. You see, they had been getting their breakfast, leaving their home unguarded, for they had no fear that anyone would harm it unless it was Chatterer the Red Squirrel, and they knew that he was paying an early morning visit to the Green Forest. So they ate their fill, and then, twittering happily, they came skimming back home through the Old Orchard.

Just think how they felt when they came in sight of their home and saw the nest they had worked so hard to build on the ground all tattered and torn and their two precious eggs broken. With wild cries of sorrow and anger they darted forward. Their first thought was that Farmer Brown's boy must have done this dreadful thing while they were away, for they could think of no one else. But at the sound of their voices a stranger appeared in the doorway of their house. It was Mrs. Bully, who that very morning had come to the Old Orchard to join Bully the English Sparrow, and had right away decided that they would live in the Skimmer house. Bully himself suddenly darted down at them from the old apple tree and there was something very determined and warlike in the way he struck at them with his short, stout bill.

He darted forward, meaning to pull Mrs. Bully out of his doorway

Now Skimmer the Swallow, he of the white waistcoat, who makes his home in the old houses of Drummer the Woodpecker and sometimes in the little houses that thoughtful people who love him put up for him, is one of the gentlest of birds and not at all quarrelsome. He is beloved by all his neighbors and lives on the happiest terms with them.

But for all his gentleness he is not a coward. Oh, my, no! Skimmer is just as brave as anyone, and when he must fight will fight just as hard as he knows how. To see his nest destroyed and his house taken away from him was more than he could stand, and he darted forward meaning to pull Mrs. Bully out of his doorway. He felt that if he could once get in himself Bully and Mrs. Bully would never be able to get him out again.

But Mrs. Bully was all ready for him and though he got her by the feathers on the top of her head with all his might he couldn't budge her. You see, she was too stout and strong for him. And he could hold on for only a second or two, for suddenly Bully struck him so hard that the blow knocked him off. And it hurt, too. You see, Bully's bill is very stout and strong and Skimmer's own bill is very small and weak. It was never meant for fighting.

In spite of this Skimmer and Mrs. Skimmer did their best, and for a few minutes the air was full of feathers, mostly their feathers, while the Old Orchard rang with angry cries. Then Skimmer and Mrs. Skimmer had to fly away to get breath. Bully didn't try to follow them. He knew better than to try to catch them in the air, for they the most wonderful fliers in the Old Orchard, while Bully is slow on the wing. So he was content to simply drive them away. But they were back again soon, and then the same think happened all over again. Bully and Mrs. Bully actually seemed to be enjoying the fight and it was very clear that they knew all about fighting.

So all that bright morning that dreadful fight for the house in the apple tree in the Old Orchard continued, and never once did Skimmer and Mrs. Skimmer succeed in getting Mrs. Bully out of the doorway so that they could get in. At last, with their usually neat, trim clothes all torn and with many aching wounds, they gave up for the time being.

"We'll just have to wait until they leave the house unguarded," said Skimmer sorrowfully. "Then we'll try to get it back."

Store Owner Fined $15 Over Assault

Found guilty of assaulting Reginald W. Tomlinson, 2604 Richmond Avenue, a customer, Henry J. Williams, 1615 Fort Street, proprietor of Dad's Confectionery and Tea Shop yesterday morning.

Stating he had gone into the store to buy ice cream cones, Tomlinson testified the defendant had refused to serve him until he had put his money on the counter.

When he refused to obey the proprietor's order to "stop smoking in my place," Tomlinson stated, the accused had struck him across the face and then grabbed him by the throat.

Williams said Tomlinson had blown smoke in his face and that he had warned him not to do it again or he would slap him across the face. After Tomlinson had repeated the offence, he continued, he had then slapped him.

Williams said he had only grabbed Tomlinson by the throat to prevent being hit because Tomlinson was flailing his arms.

In reply to a question from City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison, Williams said he always asked his customers for money before serving them ice cream.

City Tug Sent For Barges

The tug Island Navigator, owned and operated by Island Tug & Barge, Ltd., left Victoria over the week-end for Eureka, Calif., where she will pick up three large barges which broke loose from a recent tow and subsequently were taken to the lower California port for repairs.

Island Navigator, left San Francisco May 16 with four large barges in tow, and headed for this city. A series of heavy storms resulted in three of them breaking loose and being severely pounded. These three were picked up in subsequent calmer weather and taken to Eureka. The tug with the fourth scow arrived here May 31.

Officials of the local towing company said yesterday the tug and the three repaired barges were expected "in a week or ten days, depending on the weather."

Arrival here of the vessels will complete one of the most unusual and largest tows of its kind on the Pacific coast. Island Navigator is under the command of Captain F. D. Jones, Victoria. She carries an all-Victoria crew.

Work has started on drilling holes for parking meters in Victoria. Public works committee chairman Ald. Hunter said yesterday it will probably be a month or six weeks before the installations are completed. They will not be used until all of them have been installed. For parallel parking, the meters are being placed 15 inches from the curb and 22 feet apart.

Victoria sweet peas from Beacon Hill Park made a name for themselves when they graced the banquet table at the Winnipeg meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities recently. W. H. Warren, parks administrator, has been advised in a letter from Mayor George.

The city engineer's department has been instructed to draw up a plan for road improvements within the city together with cost estimates and suggestions as to which should be repaired first, Ald. Hunter stated yesterday.

The Department of Municipal Affairs has sent to the city statutory declaration forms which must be filled out before Greater Victoria's new 20-year transportation franchise is approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. The franchise will become effective within 30 days after such approval.

Parliament Will Leave Much Undone

OTTAWA, July 13 (CP). If Parliament, nearing the end of a tough six-months session, needs any evidence that the Federal legislative load has grown into a business of major proportions let it just cast an eye over the work it didn't get done this time and has shifted over until next year.

Probably starting next February it will be confronted not only with the new business the Government presages in the Throne speech, but it will also find itself back again in the toils of other familiar problems. These include the proposed new labor code, human rights and fundamental freedoms, and a long-awaited reform of the Income Tax Act.

It will find on its agenda, too, a continuing study of the Election Act and the Indian Act, and, if Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Opposition leader John Bracken stick to their guns, a committee probe into reform of the Senate.

Then, somewhere in the legislative limbo, there still lurk those thorny questions of what sort of a flag Canada should have and whether July 1 should be called Dominion Day as now, Canada Day ... lies issues last session, they were sidetracked but not wiped out this time.

The answer to the whole problem of the swelling legislative burden, the half-year session appear to be here to stay—may lie in Mr. King's acceptance of a proposal by Mr. Bracken that a joint committee be set up to study Senate reform. Whether the provinces were invited to participate should, Mr. King suggested, be decided by the committee itself.

It has been argued that the answer to the lopsided Commons' portion lies in initiating more legislation into the Senate. In this connection, Senator Wishart Robertson, Government leader, has proposed that Cabinet Ministers be allowed to pilot legislation in that chamber. If this did not shift some of the weight of business off the Commons, he said he was quite ready to consider alternatives.

Don't Pity Yourself

By DR. J. B. WARREN

No matter who or what you are there will be times when you feel discouraged, dissatisfied with yourself and your lack of ability to get things done. You actually feel sorry for yourself.

This is a dangerous state in which to find ourselves because it means a loss of grip, and that we don't want to face our responsibilities. In the great majority of cases a visit to our physician and dentist will locate the trouble—overeating, overworking, not being able to solve problems, perhaps some infection. If no reason for your "blueness," you should be able to overcome it.

A Movie About a Movie Opens at the Dominion

Movie fans are treated to the rare spectacle of Hollywood kidding itself in Republic's "Hit Parade of 1947," which will open today at the Dominion Theatre, with Constance Moore, Eddie Albert, Gil Lamb, Joan Edwards in the top spots, and Woody ... merciless in its own self-ridicule in "Hit Parade." The picture is a movie about a movie, and Republic scenarists have impishly hit upon the ancient and honorable institution of the serial, the so-called chapter thriller or less elegantly the "cliff hanger" for their most hilarious lampooning sequence.

CAPITOL THEATRE "Boomerang" now at the Capitol Theatre marks the third picture Producer Louis de Rochemont has filmed employing the unique creative formula that draws its power from an utterly naturalistic treatment of a real-life story. "Boomerang" brings exciting screen life to the strangest case in American court history—the gripping story of a man, a State's attorney, who placed a ... man than on his own political ambitions. The picture stars Dana Andrews and Jane Wyatt.

OAK BAY THEATRE When Lionel Barrymore started his role as the psychiatrist in the M-G-M drama, "The Secret Heart," now at the Oak Bay Theatre, it marked a screen reunion for the veteran character actor and Anna Q. Nilsson. It was the first time they had acted together in 25 years. Comparative newcomers in the cast of "The Secret Heart" are Claudette Colbert, Walter Pidgeon and June Allyson, with Robert Sterling and Marshall Thompson playing important supporting roles.

PLAZA THEATRE The Great Expectations of Pip, a blacksmith's apprentice, come true when he is left a fortune. It is not until he is grown up that he learns his benefactor is Magwitch, an escaped convict to whom Pip showed a kindness. To repay Pip, Magwitch left him all the money he had made in Australia. "Great Expectations" is now showing at the Plaza ... and John Mills.

ROYAL THEATRE The stellar trio of "Stallion Road," which ends tonight at the Royal Theatre, are Ronald Reagan, Alexis Smith and Zachary Scott. Several prize mares are seen in the Warner Bros.' new drama. The film was produced with the co-operation of the American Humane Association.

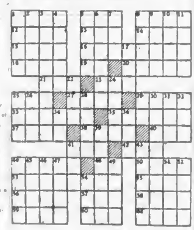

Lumber is the most important industry in Finland.

Federal, B.C. Ministers Talk Aid for Dry Belts

Further discussions towards extension of the benefits of the Federal Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act to British Columbia dry belts took place in Lethbridge last week between Agriculture Minister James Gardiner and British Columbia's Lands Minister E T Kenney and Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam. Mr Kenney said yesterday on his return from the ... of the Western Canadian Reclamation Association.

During the conference and in private talks with Mr. Gardiner, the Provincial Ministers pointed out that last year British Columbia grew $25,000,000 worth of fruit on irrigated land, but insisted that Federal aid was necessary if any further extensions of settlement were to be made.

Only assistance so far granted to this Province under the PFRA Act is in connection with the Pemberton Meadows drainage and reclamation project.

Paving the way for extension of the Federal assistance measure to other parts of British Columbia, the Provincial Government at the last session put through legislation to allow of three-party agreements being entered into between the Dominion, the Province and land-owners concerned.

Since then, however, there has been no clear-cut assurance from Ottawa that other dry areas of British Columbia would enjoy the assistance given to Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba under the Dominion Government's $3,000,000 appropriation.

Mr. Kenney said the P.F.R.A. Act was designed to take care of the needs to settled prairie areas now so badly dried out as to require more assistance than Provincial Governments could provide.

Assistance in the Pemberton project has been extended by Ottawa because of the fact that returned men had been settled in that area after the Great War.

He said British Columbia did not figure in the $100,000,000 12-year program of water conservation projects described by Mr. Gardiner at the Lethbridge meeting. The four projects in the 12-year plan are the St. Mary River dam and the Bow River and Red River projects in Alberta, and the South Saskatchewan River project.

The sun has a diameter of 864,100 miles.

40 Days' Rain or Sunshine Predicted In Verse Quoted Since 12th Century

Today is St. Swithin's Day, so watch the weather because:

"St. Swithin's Day if thou dost rain,
For forty days it will remain;
St. Swithin's Day if thou be fair
For forty days 'twill rain na mair."

At least so say the widely quoted doggerel lines associated with the name of St. Swithin early in the 12th century.

The belief that the weather on July 15 determines the weather for the next 40 days is not accepted altogether, however, at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory. An official said last night that regardless of the verse, the staff would keep working.

Many attempts have been made to explain the popular superstition, but according to the Catholic Encyclopaedia none have proved satisfactory.

Very little is known about the life of the saint and even the date of his death is a little uncertain. It is entered in the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle under the year 861. He was buried according to his own wishes in "a vile and unworthy place." Later he was adopted as the patron saint of the restored church at Winchester, and his body was moved to the bassilica.

Health Department Urges War On Housefly as Check on Polio

War against the common housefly is being strongly advocated by the Provincial Department of Health this week as a precaution against the spread of poliomyelitis, so far confined to the Vancouver area.

Recent research carried out in the United States has substantiated evidence that flies provide a line of communication for "polio" virus from infected sewage to food on the kitchen table, officials of the department warned yesterday.

In a special warning to Vancouver, they emphasized that because "polio" incidence has reached epidemic proportions in the Greater Vancouver area, householders—for their own and their neighbors' safety—should destroy flies and their feeding and breeding places around the home.

"This is also a precaution against typhoid, Summer diarrhoea, salmonellosis, dysentery and other diseases," departmental statement said.

"Fly population can be cut down in the neighborhood by adequate disposal of human sewage, use of tightly-covered garbage tins, and frequent removal of food refuse from empty lots, back yards, alleys, wharves and markets. Proper disposal of manure, a chief breeding medium, will also reduce the menace.

"Flies can be kept out of the home by window and door screens, careful food storage, frequent disposal of garbage, and—because they are attracted by odors—maintenance of general cleanliness. Once they are inside the home they should not be allowed to stay, as they are probably germ-laden. Swatters, flypaper, and D.D.T. and other fly sprays used according to manufacturers' instructions, are effective weapons.

"Outside the home, food markets and eating and drinking places should be kept as fly-free as possible, and fly invasion must be guarded against in Summer camps because of the difficulties of food storage and proper disposal of sewage and garbage."

In Vancouver yesterday Dr Stewart Murray, senior city medical health officer warned the Council that Vancouver may have to employ additional health inspectors if the poliomyletis epidemic continues.

Three new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in Vancouver by medical health authorities, bringing the total since January 1 to 42 in Greater Vancouver and the Lower Fraser Valley.

Cases in Vancouver total 34, North Vancouver three, West Vancouver one; Burnaby two; Abbotsford one, and Chilliwack one.

City Diphtheria Case But No Polio Found

AN eight-year-old girl was admitted to St Joseph's Hospital over the week-end with a "fairly severe" case of diphtheria, Dr J L Murray ... reported yesterday. It is the sixth case this year.

Victoria is still free from poliomyelitis, he added.

Funeral Today For G. A. Beck

George Albert Beck, 65, well known in Vancouver Island sporting circles, died suddenly on Sunday at his home, 1311 Minto Street.

An advertising salesman for The Victoria Daily Times from 1922 until 1945, when he was forced to retire because of poor health, Mr. Beck was a native of Toronto and came to Victoria in 1909.

At one time he managed the Yarrows baseball team. He was a charter member of the Victoria Branch of the Native Sons of Canada, a past president of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association and the Vancouver Island Fish and Game Protective Association and fathered the provincial association. He served a term as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and helped organize Company 1 of the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers.

GEORGE A. BECK

He leaves his wife, Fannie Beatrice, and one son, George Wilson, both in Victoria. Christian Science funeral rites will be conducted from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 1:30 this afternoon, followed by cremation.

Aged Resident To Be Buried On Wednesday

Funeral mass will be celebrated at Our Lady of Lourdes Church tomorrow at 9 a.m. for George Laramee, well-known Esquimalt resident who claimed to be 110 years old. He died yesterday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Rev. J. R. Buckley will be in charge of the service and interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

Mr. Laramee, who told reporters on his last birthday he was 110 years old, claimed to be a cousin of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and a veteran of the Grand Army of the Republic during the American Civil War.

Born near Montreal, he came to Victoria in 1867, and said he had been a soldier, prospector, miner, trapper and lumberman.

Yesterday Mrs J. T. Jones, in whose home Mr. Laramee lived, reported that when she and an administrator opened Mr. Laramee's safety deposit box they found annuity papers recording his age as 92.

Dr. McCallum Dies Suddenly

Dr. J. S. McCallum, well-known Victoria physician, died suddenly at Shawnigan Lake on Sunday.

He served for many years with the Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment Commission, and had been assistant district administrator and assistant chief medical officer for the Canadian Government since 1935.

Dr. McCallum had been in charge of the medical service of the Department of Veterans' Affairs at the Belmont Building since 1945. He was at one time medical health officer for the municipality of Esquimalt.

Private funeral services will be held at the home of Dr. T. McPherson this afternoon. Dr W. O. Wilson will officiate. Cremation will follow at Royal Oak. McCall Bros. are in charge of funeral arrangements.

A covered railway "speeder" stolen from the B.C. Forest Products at Youbou, Sunday, was found a few hours later at Colwood out of gas, British Columbia police reported yesterday.

None of Group From Europe Expected Here

More than 750 European timber workers will sail from Bremerhaven July 21 to work in Canadian lumber camps, but it is not anticipated that any of them will come to British Columbia.

Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney said yesterday the understanding here was that the whole of the group was destined for camps in Eastern Canada.

According to a Reuter's dispatch from Berlin, the timber workers are from among displaced persons in the British and American occupation zones. Mainly Balts and Ukranians, all are single men between 20 and 40 years old.

They were selected by Canadian officials, and it is expected that they will be allowed to apply for Canadian citizenship after the normal qualifying period of residence.

Also aboard the ship will be nearly 200 displaced persons who will go as sugar beet workers to join relatives in Canada under a scheme prepared by the inter-governmental committee for refugees before it was incorporated into the new international organization. None of the 200 is expected to come to this province.

Funeral Tomorrow For H. G. Woollett

For 22 years a purser with the Canadian Pacific Railway B.C. Coast Service ships Herbert George Woollett, 824 Harbinger Avenue, died Saturday in St Joseph's Hospital. He was 46 years old.

Born in Victoria, he was educated at Sir James Douglas and Collegiate Schools. He is survived by his parents, Mr and Mrs George W Woollett; his wife and two sons, George and Laurie, and a brother, Archie, all of Victoria.

Funeral services will be conducted by Dean Spencer Elliott at Christ Church Cathedral at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

GANGES, ON FERTILE SALT SPRING ISLAND

Photograph shows part of the wharf and shopping centre of Ganges, on Ganges Harbor at the east side of Salt Spring Island. The community has a population of 750 persons. Salt Spring Island is 17 miles long, and from one to nine miles wide. For many years its fertile farms have produced top quality butter, lamb and mutton.

Port Alberni Chinese Open Masonic Temple

PORT ALBERNI, July 14 — Streets of Port Alberni on Saturday and Sunday reverberated to the beat of Oriental drums, and giant lions' heads moved majestically along the avenues to mark the dedication of the Chinese Freemasonry Temple here and the institution of a new Chinese Masonic lodge.

Parades and banquets along with business sessions featured the two-day event here, which brought 150 delegates to the city.

On Sunday night the new temple was the scene of a Chinese gesture of good will to local Masonic members of the white race and a number of civic dignitaries who partook of traditional Chinese fare.

E. Bartrim, speaking for the local Masonic lodge, extended best wishes of the Occidental Masonic organization to the Oriental, and in turn Deputy Grand Secretary K. H. Moy, of Vancouver, spoke words of Oriental greeting and appreciation.

Mayor W. C. Hamilton, of Port Alberni, welcomed the visiting delegates and expressed appreciation of the Chinese hosts' hospitality. He made reference to the thought that such joint gatherings engendered good will and friendship. For the Chinese homeland he wished peace and good living.

Other visiting dignitaries of the Chinese Masonic lodge were Deputy Grand Master of Canada, Chan Yee Hand, of Vancouver, Master of the Victoria lodge, Chow Chew Hoo, Master of the Nanaimo lodge, Lee Nai, and Master of Vancouver lodge Lom Yew.

One of the interesting addresses at the Sunday banquet was that of George Bird, venerable historian of the Albernis, who recalled that Mah Bing, Chinese miner, came to the district 70 years ago in a sailing vessel, via California. He took out $4,000 worth of gold from China Creek, which he later lost in the Chilcotin district. He was widely known for his generosity, especially toward children, and went to join his ancestors about four years ago at more than 90 years of age.

Mr. Bird also expressed admiration for the splendid stand of the Chinese against the Japanese over a period of so many years.

The following officers to serve locally were installed: Chairman, Chong Ching Man; deputy, Eng Yina; Chinese secretary Chan Dong Ken; deputy, Mah Yow; treasurer, Wong Why Jung; deputy Hay Lon Durk; secretary for the English section, Young Wing Hay; deputy, Mah Chuck Kow; director Wong Nan; deputy, Hay Poy.

Prominent in the ceremonies were members of the Chinese Masonic athletic clubs of Victoria and Vancouver, who staged the lion dances and various athletic entertainments and dances.

Drums used in the ceremonies were more than 200 years old, and colorful banners were about 50 years old. Lion masks were of bamboo. One was made in China and the others at Vancouver from imported material.

After parades to the local cenotaph, a wreath in honor of the unknown soldier was laid by Chong Ching Man, Port Alberni, supported by Chan Chee Hand, deputy grand master, and May Poy, of Port Alberni. The honored dead were saluted by the traditional three bows, and the dignitaries then gave the Occidental military salute.

The local temple was gaily decorated with the flags of the two nations and brilliantly illuminated, resembling an Occidental home at Christmastide.

MESACHIE LAKE, July 14 — Work has been completed on an addition to the Hillcrest Lumber Co., Ltd., cookhouse. Carpenters are repairing the Sikh Temple, which was brought from Hillcrest property near Duncan.

Fishing Derby At Mill Bay Next Sunday

MILL BAY, July 14 — The Malahat Beach Fish and Game Association Derby to be held next Sunday in aid of the King's Daughters Hospital, Duncan, promises to be a successful first venture by the association.

In order to foster interest in the association, and to enlist the support of all persons, irrespective of residence, it has been decided that the Derby will be open to everybody. Membership in the association will not be obligatory, but those entering must purchase a Derby ticket. There will be prizes for the six top fish brought in at any of the weighing stations. Fishing will commence at 6 a.m., and cease at 4 p.m. Those who purchase tickets and do not fish will be eligible for consolation prizes consisting of a ten-foot clinker-built rowboat, a trilite lamp, and a pressure cooker.

Weighing stations will be at Hall's Boathouse, Brentwood Anchorage and the Mill Bay Tourist Resort. No hard and fast rules have been set regarding use of rods and hand lines, either may be used, and any legal lure or method of obtaining fish is permissible. It is hoped that many of the younger generation and those of the fair sex will take advantage of the opportunity to display their fishing ability.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the association, sporting goods departments of the Hudson's Bay Company, Victoria and Duncan, and many stores at Duncan. Fishing is improving daily in the area, several large springs having been taken in the vicinity on Sunday.

Arizona Animals Tree Big Cougar

PORT ALBERNI, July 14 — A vivid description of a Vancouver Island cougar hunt, employing dogs from the famous Lee Bros.' kennels of Arizona, was given by Thomas Yates, well-known Port Alberni hunter, who has just returned from a trip to a section of country near Northwest Bay, along with James Dewar, chief predatory hunter.

Mr. Yates told of how the dogs, new to the British Columbia climate, found it a little difficult at first acclimatizing themselves, but after a good run soon picked up a trail which Mr. Dewar felt was satisfactory.

They were soon out of sight, and the two men circled for some time without sighting the dogs. They decided to split up, Mr. Yates taking to a river bank and Mr. Dewar heading across some ridges.

Mr. Yates heard the barking of one of the hounds, named King, and followed the sound to where the three dogs, King, Red and Scout, had treed a large cougar.

Never having tackled a treed cougar before and having encountered only two others in their wild state, Mr. Yates took his time. He rested his rifle on a tree, aimed carefully and dropped the cougar with one shot.

Alter Village Help Measure

Tightening of provisions governing terms under which provincial guarantees may be given in respect of village municipalities' undertakings has been effected by new regulations under the Village Municipalities Assistance Act, it was learned at the Legislative Buildings yesterday.

In support of an application for a guarantee, a village municipality will be required to supply evidence establishing the self-liquidating nature of the project.

Power is given to the inspector of municipalities to require that records, books of account and the handling of money and securities be brought into conformity with the act and with good accounting practice, if he is not satisfied that all requirements are being met.

HOMOGENIZATION OF BABY FOODS
EXCLUSIVE LIBBY PROCESS

Ten Times Finer in Texture. Babies Can Get Extra Nourishment Out of Libby's

Libby's special Homogenization explodes the tiny food cells, makes Libby's Baby Foods at least ten times finer in texture than foods which are only strained. This releases the food value so that baby's digestive juices can readily mix with this nourishment.

With the work of digestion made extra easy, it stands to reason that baby can get more of the health-building vitamins and minerals out of Libby's foods.

For example, actual feeding tests confirm studies on the extra iron nourishment babies can get out of Libby's Homogenized Spinach—three times as much as from the same spinach that is only strained.

FREE BOOKLET on Infant Feeding

Libby's would like to send you their free booklet "Healthful Feeding for Your Baby". Send your name and address to Libby's, Chatham, Ontario, and a copy will be forwarded to you.

ONLY Libby's BABY FOODS ARE BOTH STRAINED AND HOMOGENIZED

When shopping for baby don't forget Libby's Homogenized Evaporated Milk and Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice.
